BANKHEAD LAW ATTACK FAILS

MUNITIONS MAKERS OF AMERICA PLACED BRITAIN AHEAD U. S.

J. P. MORGAN PROTESTS HIS BANKING HOUSE WAS NOT TO BLAME IN MATTER

By PRESTON L. GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. (AP)—Evidence that some American munitions makers pledged themselves to fill British orders regardless of United States needs was introduced in a senate investigation today amid protests by J. P. Morgan that his banking house was "not to blame."

A cablegram from Morgan and company, which arranged the purchase of approximately $3,000,000,000 of American goods for the allies before this country entered the war, was introduced to show the promise made.

Sent to the company's London house March 14, 1916, it said:

"Have conferred with Remington Arms, Union Metalic Cartridge company, Midvale Steel company, Bethlehem Steel company, and Eddystone Ammunition company who advise us that they see no indication that such contracts as the U. S. Government may place for their requirements even if augmented by Mexican situation will in any way affect present contracts between these companies and British government.

"In fact, they go further and state that in their opinion any contracts made by them with the British government will be filled whatever the requirements of U. S. government may be."

"Is it unfair to draw the conclusion," snapped Chairman Nye of the investigating committee, "that they were putting British needs definitely ahead."

"Oh, I don't think so," said George Whitney, Morgan partner. "They were prepared to fill them all."

But the committee pressed its point with a letter from the Midvale Steel company of Philadelphia to the Morgan company.

"In order to further production of English projectiles on orders which we have on hand, we have seriously delayed the completion of orders for American projectiles

RAINS INTERFERE IN ITALIAN CAMPAIGN IN NORTHERN ETHIOPIA

INTENSIVE AIR ACTIVITY REPORTED FROM SOUTHWESTERN BATTLE FRONT

By ROY P. PORTER
Associated Press Staff Writed.

Fascist invaders of Ethiopia, their campaigns hampered by weather opposites on two main frontiers, were reported today pushing aerial attacks on southwestern river valley settlements.

A neutral observer who flew back to Addis Ababa after a visit to Ras Desta Demtu's camp, said the Italian air squadrons bomb the courses of the Webbe Shibeli and the Ganale Doria daily between 7 and 9 a. m.

Troop movements in the north have been hindered by driving early rains which have turned Italian-constructed roads into mud holes or have washed them away. Lack of water in the terrific heat of the desert south together with malarial fevers also have complicated the invaders' drives.

The most severe of the consistent air raids claimed six lives at Negele, 190 miles northwest of Dolo, a fortnight ago, the observer declared. Forty others were wounded in the rain of 500 bombs from 15 planes.

Four British ships steamed southward today from Portsmouth en route to the Mediterranean posts being vacated by four others.

The battleship Nelson, flying the flag of Admiral Sir Roger Backhouse, led the destroyers Westminster, Wrestler and Windsor to re-

RICE MILLERS WIN RIGHT TO RETURN OF PROCESSING TAXES

NO RULING ON CONSTITUTIONALITY OF BANKHEAD ACT BY HIGH COURT

By JAMES W. DOUTHAT
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. (AP)—Ordering $200,000,000 in impounded taxes returned to processors because they were invalid under AAA, the supreme court left open today whether the $1,000,000,000 of such taxes already paid oe farmers could be retrieved by the taxpayers.

In another unanimous action, th high tribunal also dismissed the first test case on the Bankhead cotton control act.

No decision was handed down in the only other New Deal case before it—involving the Tennessee Valley Authority act.

The tax ruling, given in the Louisiana rice millers' case, did not cover whether the processors must prove they had not passed the levies on the consumer before recovery could be made. Litigation already under way in the lower courts must decide that.

Government attorneys later emphasized this requirement of the amended AAA act would remain in effect unless the supreme court holds it invalid.

Normally, the court does not rule on questions unless it considers they are directly presented in litigation before it.

Considering that no case had been made against the Bankhead law, the justices said their review in this instance had been

"BABY BOND" PLAN OF PAYING BONUS IS SENATE PROPOSAL

SENATE COMMITTEE SEEKING BILL THAT MAY MEET WHITE HOUSE APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13. (AP)—Administration forces introduced in the senate today a new bonus bill providing for full payment of the face value of bonus certificates in immediately redeemable $50 bonds.

Senator Harrison (D-Miss) introduced the bill and predicted to newsmen it would be "enacted into law." It bore the names of Senators Byrnes (D-SC) Steiwer (D-Ore) and Clark (D-Mo.) as well as that of Harrison.

The Mississippian said no new taxes would be necessary to raise the needed funds at this time.

Harrison announced on the floor the measure also had the support of Democratic Leader Robinson. The finance committee will meet later in the day to TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 13. (AP)—Efforts to save Bruno Richard Haumptmann from the electric chair next Friday night were cloaked in secrecy today.

Nugent Dodds and Neil Burkinshaw, Washington lawyers specializing in United States supreme court procedure, who were retained by C. Lloyd Fisher, chief defense counsel, left Trenton apparently after a brief stay.

Fisher did much telephoning from his office in Flemington, but disclosed no step toward seeking a writ of habeas corpus in a federal court or toward making any other legal move.

THIRTY-FOUR LIVES LOST AS FREIGHTER BATTERED TO PIECES

HURRICANE HURLS SHIP ON ROCKS OFF OREGON COAST WITH HEAVY TOLL

By WENDELL W. WEBB
(Associated Press Staff Writer.)

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 13. (AP)—Thirty-four men were counted lost today as the wild Pacific hurled six battered bodies upon the shore from the wrecked intercoastal freighter Iowa.

Coast guardsmen said none of the crew of the 410-foot vessel could have survived the pounding seas that smashed the freighter into wreckage after a 76-mile an hour hurricane tossed it upon Peacock Spit, Davy Jones' locker for many another ship.

The furious storm also threatened several other vesssels as coast patrols sought bodies of other victims.

It was the greatest toll of lives on Peacock Spit since 1913, when 33 were lost on a tanker.

An even greater loss of life was averted narrowly when the coast guard cutter Onondaga veered toward Peacock Spit and was able barely to inch away from the danger zone, unable to get close

SALARIES OFFICIALS AND DEPUTIES SET BY COMMISSIONERS

RESOLUTION PASSED PUTTING ALL PRECINCT OFFICERS ON FEE BASIS

Salaries of various officials and deputies at the courthouse were set at the regular session of the commissioners' court Monday morning. Another meeting was slated Monday afternoon to complete the work on this phase after a considerable discussion ensued on the salaries of deputies of the assessor and collector of taxes with Commissioners Jack Megarity and J. Wesley Harris taking the leading roles.

Claims were allowed except as noted on the claim docket.

It was voted to transfer $500 from the general fund to the hospital fund.

A resolution was passed putting all precinct officers of the county on the fee basis instead of the salary basis as is allowed under the new salary law in effect.

The officers salaries were set as follows under the rules of the bill that the pay cannot be less than that earned in 1935:

District clerk, $4,750.
Criminal district attorney, $4,750.
County clerk, $4,750.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS TOOK ELEVEN LIVES OVER PAST WEEK-END

COLLISION NEAR SAN ANTONIO ACCOUNTED FOR DEATH OF FOUR

By The Associated Press.

Traffic accidents took 11 lives in Texas over the week-end. Many others were injured.

A collision near San Antonio yesterday took four lives and seriously injured five others. Capt. James Albert Wharton, 44, of the San Antonio fire department, his wife, 42, and Mrs. Emma Estelle Walters, 37, and her daughter, Margie Ellen Walters, 15, were killed.

Jesse Halbert, postoffice clerk at Uvalde, was killed in a collision near Castorville last night.

Gasoline Prices Advanced by Some Major Companies

Texas Company and Humble Oil and Refining Company stations posted advances of one cent per gallon on all grades of gasolines at start of business Monday morning in Corsicana, and they were joined at noon in the hike by the Sinclair stations.

Gulf, Magnolia, and Texas and Pacific Coal and Oil company officials stated they had not received orders to meet the advance at noon but were expecting the authorizations at any time. Increase in the retail price was attributed to the recent advances in crude oil prices.

"East Texas" gasoline, produced by the independents, was still selling at thirteen cents Monday morning.

The new scale of prices was fifteen, eighteen and twenty cents for the three grades of fuel.

The advance in gasoline prices was rumored as early as Saturday but definite information was not available until the new schedule was posted.

ILLINOIS DEMOCRATS DESERT GOVERNOR HORNER FOR CHICAGO DOCTOR IN GUBERNATORIAL RACE

By HARRY L. THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Dr. Herman Niels Bundesen, known as one of the biggest vote getters in Chicago, today had the backing of the state democratic organization for the gubernatorial race.

The state organization openly broke with Governor Henry Horner, who had previously announced he would seek re-nomination.

Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago and National Committeeman Patrick J. Nash dominated the Chicago group in the support of Dr. Bundesen and won over the downstate factions last night by a reported agreement to name others than Chicagoans for the two seats of congressmen-at-large.

Incumbents again named included J. Hamilton Lewis, United States senator and Otto Kerner, attorney general, both of Chicago.

Informed of the indorsement of Dr. Dundesen, Governor Horner reiterated he would seek the independnt democratic namination.

"The actions of the slatemaking group were nothing more than a pantomine," said Governor Horner. "They were there merely to pick the man Mayor Kelly wished."

No candidates for congressman-at-large were named, which political observers interpreted as indicating Martin J. Brennan, incumbent, would not be renamed. Illinois' other congressman-at-large Michael L. Igoe, resigned to become a United States district attorney.

John Steele, retiring state treasurer, was chosen for lieutenant-governor in place of Thomas F. Donovan, reported slated for a post with the federal court of claims.

THREE INJURED IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENT SUNDAY AFTERNOON

NINE OTHERS ESCAPED UNINJURED WHEN TWO AUTOMOBILES COLLIDED

Three girls of high school age, two from Corsicana and one from Kerens, received minor injuries when two cars in which they were riding collided on West Second avenue shortly before 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Nine other boys and girls, occupants of the two cars escaped injury.

Miss Lelia Clyde Owen of Kerens, guest of Miss Sara Holmes, received a severe cut on her right elbow, which necessitated six stitches being taken at the Navarro Clinic.

Miss Sara Beth Knox received first aid treatment for a head wound.

Miss Allie Mae Shipp received cuts and bruises on her right leg and was given first aid treatment.

Miss Martha Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce Martin, was driving one car, and other occupants were Misses Jerry Robinson, Florence Hebert, Essie Elizabeth Slaughter, Rosanna Rector, Sara Beth Knox, Lelia Clyde Owen and Sara Holmes.

Miss Shipp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Shipp, was driving the other car, and other occupants of it were Horace Simms, Jack Simms and Miss Geraldine Wright.

FREEDOM OF SEAS BECOMES ISSUE IN NEUTRALITY STUDY

ALLEGEDLY CONFLICTING LANGUAGE OF PROPOSED BILL IS PROTESTED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Freedom of the seas became a fighting issue today as the senate foreign relations committee projected new studies of the administration's neutrality bill.

Already shorn of language which some senators felt tied the United States too close to League of Nations sanctions, the bill came up for further consideration in the committee today. Warnings were heard against relinquishment of the policy extending government protection to American merchant ships on the high seas in time of foreign wars.

NATION'S CAPITAL NOW CAMP OF EMBATTLED FARMERS ASKING ENACTMENT NEW FARM PROGRAM

By FRANK I. WELLER
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The capital became a camp of "embattled farmers" today as determination spread among agricultural groups to "picket" legislative halls until congress enacts a new farm program.

A poll of agricultural representatives from virtually all sections of the country revealed arrangements to maintain congressional contacts on a larger scale than ever before.

Moreover, there were signs that when congress gets down to the actually drafting of a new farm bill, some farm representatives may fight for ideas not contemplated by farm administration officials.

The proposal being pushed by administration men, and incorporated as the No. 1 plank in a seven-point policy platform drawn by 100 spokesmen for farm organizations Saturday, centers on production control through subsidized soil conservation.

Farmers would get cash grants, provided they had permitted the transfer of certain acreage from commercial production to soil conserving crops, or had "adjusted" the commodities on certain land.

Administration leaders, faced with the problem of raising an estimated $500,000,000 a year to finance the program, are considering an effort to enact most of the old processing taxes as excise levies. Many AAA officials believe, it is said, that the supreme court decision invalidating AAA left the

Heart Attack Is Fatal To "Roxy" Of Picture Fame

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Samuel Lionel Rothafel, 53, motion picture exhibitor familiarly known to showmen and audiences as "Roxy", died today of coronary thrombosis in his rooms in the Hotel Gotham.

His pajama clad body was found by a maid who had come to the room to awaken him. With Mrs. Rothafel, who occupied an adjoining room, he returned to the hotel last night in good health after a day of golf.

Dr. Seymour Wanderman, Rothafel's physician, said he suffered a heart attack a year ago, but had not been troubled since.

Besides the widow, Rothafel is survived by a daughter, Mrs. George Bijur, New York and a son, Arthur, 25, of San Francisco.

Rothafel was born in Stillwater, Minn. From 1900 to 1907 he served in the marines. In later years he was given the honorary rank of major.

"Roxy" was celebrated as a pioneer of the elaborate stage production, adding pretentious shows to the picture program. He

HIGHWAYS AND PARKS STAND AS MEMORIAL TO D. E. COLP TODAY

FIRST CHAIRMAN OF TEXAS PARKS BOARD DIED SUNDAY; BROTHER RESIDES HERE

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Miles of Texas highways and acres of state parks stood as memorials today to D. E. Colp, first chairman of the Texas parks board, who died yesterday in a Temple hospital.

For 26 years the former cowhand and mule-drawn street car driver had devoted his efforts to highway and park improvement in Texas. He served 12 years as parks board chairman and recently became Bexar county parks superintendent.

That work was cut short by double pneumonia which attacked the 69-year-old builder Jan. 1.

Funeral services were arranged at San Antonio for this afternoon with the Rev. Edgar Hubbard, pastor of the Denver Heights Presbyterian church officiating and former Gov. Pat M. Neff of Waco making a short talk.

It was Neff who appointed Colp chairman of the park board when

MEMBERS OF RELIGIOUS SECT PRAYING CONSTANTLY AT COUCH OF GIRL IN HYPNOTIC SLEEP

DETROIT, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Members of the "Full Salvation Union," religious sect, kept up an almost unbroken series of prayer services today about the couch of 17-year-old Shirley Tapp, unconscious since last Wednesday in what a physician said was an "auto-hypnotic" state into which she entered at a meeting of the group.

"The Dearborn high school girl still lay on a couch in the living room of her home, respiration and reflexes apparently normal, but in a trance-like sleep.

At intervals, as the exhortation of the worshippers reached its height, she would extend her clenched hands rigidly into the air, honding that position until the prayers ended.

Her father, Laverne Tapp, automobile factory worker, said the girl was "slain by the power of God" in her effort to attain a greater sense of religious grace. He explained she had been deeply religious since she was "saved" at a meeting of the sect, but the "sinful nature" which remained had been "slain" by the trance-like sleep. He said she would awaken on the seventh day of her trance.

Dr. Edward F. Fisher, the Tapp family physician, examined Shirley yesterday before a prayer service at the home, and said she appeared "perfectly normal physically." He described her condition as "auto-hypnosis in which the mind responds only to religious stimuli."

Ross Kilgore, leader of the sect, said the prayer services at the home would continue unabated until the girl awaked, describing her condition as "a manifestation that God's power is as strong as ever."

Under belief of the members, the unconscious girl is "suffering for the whole world," while her natural impulses are subdued or "slain" by the unconscious state.

ITALIAN ACTIVITY IN AIR INCREASED ON SOUTHERN FRONT

MASSED BOMBINGS INEFFECTIVE, HOWEVER, AS NATIVES ARE PREPARED

By ALBERT W. WILSON
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

ADDIS ABABA, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Italian planes are bombarding Ethiopian camps and villages on the southwestern front daily, a European observer reported today after flying back to the capital from a visit to Ras Desta Demtu.

The greatest recent aerial assault was an attack a fortnight ago on Negele, 190 miles northwest of Dolo, where 15 planes dropped 500 bombs, but only six persons were killed and 40 wounded, this neutral source said.

The fascist squadrons are flying up the course of the Webbe Shibeli and down the Ganale Doria every day between 7 a. m. and 9 a. m., he asserted, but their bombings are ineffective because the natives are fully prepared for them.

This was the first authentic news to reach here of aerial activities in the south since the bombardment two weeks ago near Dolo, in which the Swedish Red Cross unit was destroyed.

The observer was on the southwestern front for a fortnight.

FORD COMPANY IS EXPERIMENTING WITH NEW FLIVVER PLANE

PIONEERS IN LOW-PRICED AUTOMOBILE FIELD ENTERING AIR COMPETITION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Ford Motor company is experimenting with a new two-seater "flivver" plane powered by a Ford V-8 engine.

Officials of the bureau of air commerce revealed today that a license for experimental flights in it had been issued about a month ago.

Whether the "flivver" ship has passed the planning and construction stage and actually tried its wings, the bureau spokesmen were not informed.

The air commerce bureau has regarded the use of ordinary automobile engines as a possible key to development of a family-type plane within reach of limited incomes.

DETROIT, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The Ford Motor company's new experimental plane, which was approved recently by a federal inspector here, marks a renewal of the company's activity in the "flivver" plane field after a lapse of nearly 10 years.

Ford produced a single-seat airplane, powered with a 36-horsepower French-built engine in June 1926. Subsequently a Ford-built two-cylinder air-cooled engine was installed in the ship, but the experiments were abandoned at "premature" late that year.

The new plane is a two-place cabin monoplane with dual controls. The cruising range is estimated at more than 500 miles. Power is supplied by a Ford V-8 engine stepped up to deliver 115 horsepower at 4,000 r. p. m.

Melvin J. Perrin, inspector who approved the plane, said in a letter to the bureau of air commerce that the number X-999-E was given the plane in commemoration of the famous Ford racing car "999", with which Barney Oldfield raced for Ford in 1903, the year the Wright Brothers made their historic first airplane flight.

BONUS BILL

consider it as a substitute for the house-approved bill which specifies no method of payment.

The bonds to be issued would be in small denominations, Harrison explaine tndbhiel,elldbsm z son explained, in the belief many veterans would not cash all of them immediately, thereby lessening the strain on the treasury.

The bonds would not be negotiable but would be redeemable in local postoffices. They would run for ten years and would bear interest at 3 per cent.

The interest is an inducement to the bonus holders to hold on to the certificates for greater value.

Asked if the bill would be acceptable to the White House, Harrison said:

"The White House has got nothing to do with this at all, but in my opinion this bill will be enacted into law."

The fact that Harrison and Robinson, who voted last session to sustain the President's veto, were behind the bill was taken by some to indicate the President would sign the new measure.

The bonds to be issued would mature on Jan. 1, 1945—the original maturity date of the bonus certificates. They would be exchanged for full face value of all outstanding bonus certificates, less loans made on them. Interest on loans would be cancelled after Sept. 30, 1931. The bill does not cancel any interests paid or contracted to be paid by the veteran prior to Oct. 1, 1931..

The house, which last week passed the bonus payment bill backed by veterans organizations, went through the motions today of discharging the ways and means committee of the Patman currency-expansion payment plan.

Patman (D-Tex) sought postponement of a vote on his discharge petition, filed last session on the bill vetoed by President Roosevelt and signed by 218 members. But Rish (R-NY) objected to the unanimous consent request and a roll-call was forced. The discharge was voted 228 to 100.

But no one moved to proceed with the bill's consideration and it went to the legislative calendar.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A "baby bond" plan of paying off the bonus was reported today to be approaching agreement among senate negotiators seeking a bill that might meet approval at the white house.

Final agreement on a measure to be introduced in the senate was not expected until late today when the finance committee meets.

Senator Clark (D-Mo), advocate of full cash payment, expressed the opinion there would be an agreement, but at the same time did not discount the possibility that there might be "a sharp disagreement."

Negotiators who discussed the matter secretly, in search of a substitute for the bill which swept through the house last week, continued to keep their own counsels on the details. But it was indicated the main idea was to provide for bonds of small denominations, cashable at the treasury.

Thus an ex-soldier could obtain full cash payment of his adjusted service certificate immediately if he desired. But he could also hold all or part of the bonds, drawing interest until 1945.

additional data and wish to study it carefully. I want to see especially whether we have enough money to start paying pensions without a special session."

The governor indicated he felt more doubt as to the advisability of a special session at this time than since the matter first was discussed generally.

He stressed the "tremendous" task of organizing the pension administration and the fact the law is not effective until Feb. 14.

"Many members were indefinite as to what form any revenue-raising measures should take if there was a special session," he said. "I don't want to rush anything."

Of the 31 senators, the governor received letters from, or talked to, about 20. He said 14 favored a session, three left the matter up to him, two were "indefinite," and one said anything the governor did would be "all right."

Eleven advocated a session immediately or before the election primaries next summer. Two suggested a session in the fall, two after more data had been obtained and six were indefinite.

Of more than 100 replies from house members, 82 favored a session, six opposed it, seven said it was "up to the governor" and 19 were indefinite. Seventy-four wanted a session immediately or before the primaries, four in the fall, six after more data was gathered and 17 were indefinite.

Allred said he was sure money would be available from liquor taxes to pay pensions as soon as it was legally possibly, but he did not know how long it would last.

"Of course, if we could get enough money to pay pensions, there would be no necessity for a special session," he said.

He indicated he might make a few radio talks to the people this week on the subject.

which were placed long prior to your orders and on which delayed orders we are paying penalties in serious amounts," that letter said.

Assurances which Morgan gave in 1915 that France and England could never afford to go back on their debts in this country were brought out earlier in today's hearing.

With the elderly banker steadfastly denying that booming war trade led the United States into the world conflict, an investigator suddenly questioned the fairness of methods used in marketing a $500,000,000 issue of British and French bonds here.

Morgan termed his company's effrots for the bonds an "educational campaign" and insisted it was conducted properly.

A speech he delivered to the syndicate which floated the bonds was placed in evidence.

"The bond being the only external debt of those two countries (France and England) is substantially, as is always understood with external debts in countries that make them, the first charge on the revenues of the country," the Morgan speech said. "It is absolutely imperative for the country to make good the external bonds, no matter what arrangements it has to make as to internal affairs, because it may want to come again, and without incurring the worst form of bankruptcy and disgrace, it can not abandon its external debts; not that there is any thought of doing so or of coming again."

"Is that your belief now?" asked Senator Vandenburg (R-Mich.)

"It was my belief then and it is now," the witness replied firmly.

PROBING ALLEGED THEFT AND SALE OF INFANTS AT BIRTH

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Asserted theft and sale of infants at birth in "baby farm" operations at San Antonio were under grand jury investigation today.

A reported increase in the racket led State Representative J. Franklin Spears to arrange to attend the inquiry to obtain information to help frame legislation against the practice.

The San Antonio Express says the practice has existed here several years and that reports were current that some maternity homes and midwives attending unwed mothers tell them their babies are dead and then sell the infants.

In some instances, one course said, the babies are disposed of by their mothers but that it is a usual practice for homes to admit women after accepting fees in advance and then stealing the children and selling them.

Another asserted angle of the racket was described as the practice of filing false information to the bureau of vital statistics and evasion of adoption laws.

Additional Liquor Charges Filed After More Houston Raids

HOUSTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Half a dozen more charges for violations of state liquor regulations were to be filed here today as the result of three raids by control board agents Sunday night.

One of the raids was a return visit to an establishment where the agents drew a blank last Friday. They did better Sunday night.

The control board agents have no authority to make arrests but work with local officers.

Open bottles of liquor were found behind the bar in each place, Inspector C. A. Paxton said. Two persons in each place will be charged, it was announced.

Widow Is Named As Sheriff's Successor

HEREFORD, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Mrs. John Miller today was appointed sheriff of Deaf Smith county to fill the unexpired term of her husband, who was killed in an automobile accident near Canyon last Monday.

Mrs. Miller said J. M. Murcherson and J. O. Newell would continue to serve as deputies.

Special Feature Is Planned by Rotary

Karl R. Blackwell and Ralph Tatum have charge of Wednesday's luncheon program of the Rotary club at 12:15 at the Navarro hotel; and have made arrangements for an interesting feature, it was announced Monday by Seaton Holsey. Arrangements have been made with an automobile agency of Dallas, for the screening of a motion picture, showing the workings inside an automobile factory, and several news features including shots of the Gar Wood speedboat.

All members of the club are urged to be present.

CHAPPARAL COCK SELECTED OFFICIAL CENTENNIAL BIRD

DALLAS, Jan. 13.—(Spl.)—The chapparal cock or road runner, the only bird which is known to kill rattlesnakes, has been selected as official bird of the Texas Centennial Exposition. Announcement of this was made by General Manager William A. Webb today.

The Texas legislature last summer debated the question of supplanting the mockingbird as the feathered representative of the Lone Star state with the sturdy road runner but no final vote was taken on the matter. The exposition adopted the idea and pictures, statuary and murals glorifying the road runner will feature the $15,000,000 show which opens here next June.

The road runner's Spanish name is the paisano, which means "fellow countryman." Mexican residents of the Southwest regard the presence of this bird near their habitations as a harbinger of good luck.

"The road runner is the most picturesque bird known to the Texas landscape," says Manager W. A. Webb. "It is typical of the Texas pioneer, being wholly individual in habits and characteristics, valiant, swift, cheerful and comradely. He is the friend of man and the foe of man's deadly enemy, the rattlesnake. This bird is celebrated in Southwestern song, story and history and it is fitting that the first great Southwestern world's fair should recognize his admirable attributes."

The road runner is common throughout the Southwestern states. The name comes from the bird's habit of speeding swiftly along country roads ahead of approaching vehicles. That the chapparal cock is the sworn foe of rattlesnakes is acknowledged by reputable ornithologists. The bird attacks and kills rattlesnakes wherever and whenever he finds them. The speed of a road runner is proverbial in the Southwest and they are almost impossible to capture. Legends and folk lore have grown around this bird from the border states of Mexico to the Texas Panhandle.

Love Quarrel Ends In Death For Two People

LOS ANGELES, Jaun. 13.—(AP)—A love quarrel ended in death today for Mrs. Malita Powell Rovig, 50, and her husband, Charles Rovig, 53.

In a dying statement, Rovig told Detective Lieutenant George Sheldon his wife unjustly accused him of being friendly with another woman, and then shot him twice in the stomach before turning the pistol on herself.

Mrs. Rovig's son, Don Powell, 24, told officers his mother sang in the Metropolitan Opera Company in New York in 1910 under the name of Horatia Powell. He said an attack of laryngitis ended her singing career in 1912. His father, he said, was Capt. Homer Powell, an aviator attached to Eddie Rickenbacker's squadron in the World war. He was killed in action.

Tunnel Cavein Kills Boy While Playing

GAINESVILLE, Ja. 13.—(AP)—William Edward Hair, 14, was dead today after a cave-in of a tunnel he and two younger brothers were digging yesterday in a creek bank at Bulcher, 25 miles northwest of Gainesville.

Young Hair was buried under more than a ton of damp sand. Employes of an oil company operating in the Bulcher field extricated the body and tried to restore respireation.

Cannon Files Appeal.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 13.—(AP)—Joseph F. Cannon, Concord capitalist, today abandoned his motion for a new trial of the $250,000 "heart balm" suit brought by his former son-in-law, F. Brandon Smith, Jr., and filed notice of an appeal to the state supreme court.

A jury in Mecklenburg superior court Saturday awarded Smith $12,600.

Constable Precinct No. 1.

In another place in today's paper will be found the formal announcement of Clarence Powell as a candidate for the office of Constable, Precinct No. 1, Navarro county, subject to the action of the democratic primaries.

Mr. Powell made the race for contable four years ago and was defeated in the run-off primary. He is 37 years of age and has lived here for thirty years. For the past fifteen years he has been in the taxi-cab business where he has made friends. He is a single man and makes his home with his parents

Should he be elected Mr. Powell states he will give his entire time to the administration of the affairs coming before his office and that he will put forth every effort in the performance of his duty. He promises the voters an efficient and courteous conduct of the office and that he will show no favoritism in the enforcement of the law.

Mr. Powell's many friends in precinct No. 1 urge the voters to give his candiducy serious consideration when they cast their ballots for the important office of constable in the coming election.

SUPREME COURT

"improvidently granted" on the six to three vote last fall.

Another case involving this law, filed by Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia, a Roosevelt administration foe, will give the court another opportunity to rule on it.

Bankhead Dismissed.

Chief Justice Hughes, explaining the Bankhead dismissal, said in the decision that Lee Moor, the complaining Texas planter, had principally given only general testimony regarding his financial necessities.

The trial court concluded he had failed to make a case, it was recalled, and the appeals court agreed "upon the established principle that a mandatory injunction is not granted as a matter of right, but is granted or refused in the exercise of sound judicial discretion."

The supreme court accepted this view.

In the rice millers' opinion, read by Justice Roberts, the court held the changes made by the new AAA law enacted at the last session did not "cure the infirmities of the original act" which it held unconstitutional last week.

"The exaction still lacked the quality of a true tax," the court said. "It remains a means for effectuating the regulation of agriculture production, a matter not within the powers of congress."

Impounded Taxes.

In deciding that impounded taxes must be returned the court said:

"We have no occasion to discuss or decide whether Section 21 (D) affords an adequate remedy at law. As yet the petitioner has not paid the taxes to the respondents, and, in view of the decision in the Butler (AAA) case, hereafter cannot be required so to do.

"If the respondent should now attempt to collect the tax by distraint he would be a trespasser. The decree of the district court will be vacated, and appropriate order entered directing the repayment to the petitioner of the funds impounded x x x and the cause remanded to the district court for the entry of a decree enjoining selection of the assailed exaction. A similar disposition will be made of the companion cases."

The Section 21 (D) referred to by the court would prohibit refunds of the processing taxes already paid to the government unless the tax-payer could show that he had not passed the tax on to others.

Comment Deferred.

Due to intricacies of the decision, administration officials deferred comment pending study.

It took its place in the record being made on the New Deal in the court.

This showed to date the two major ventures thrown out, NRA and AAA on unanimous and six to three decisions, respectfully; a qualified five to four victory in the gold cases; a loss by the same margin on railroad retirement legislation; and eight to one and nine to none adverse ruling on "hot oil" regulation and the Frazier-Lemke farm mortgage moratorium. The president's removal of a trade commissioner, the late William Humphrey, also was held improper.

Again the majestic court room was crowded. Notables and private citizens on hand personified conflicting sentiment over the questions at issue.

Realization of the profound importance of the occasion sharpened the suspense. All dignity, the justices gave little indication of considering their session any different from the regular Monday business.

Still Have Bankhead Act.

Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.) author of the cotton law, heard that action in the court room and said it meant "we still have the Bankhead act on the statute books.

"The department of agriculture has the power to save the cotton farmer by proceeding with operation of the Bankhead act.

"It will save this year's crop."

The rice ruling was on a case brought by eight Louisiana rice milling companies.

They hand contended the section of the AAA amendments requiring proof that they had borne the cost themselves before obtaining a refund was invalid.

The rice millers insisted they could not prove who bore the expense of the processing law. They said in their business the various lots of rice were handled together and it could not be ascertained what happened to the individual consignment.

Claimed Should Pay First.

The government claimed the millers should "pay first and litigate later." It asserted suits for injunctions against taxes were barred by federal statutes and by the AAA amednments.

The federal district court and the circuit court of appeals at New Orleans agreed with the government and dismissed the millers' petitions. The courts said they were without jurisdiction to enjoin the tax collection.

In agreeing to review the dispute, the supreme court granted a temporary injunction to continue until its final ruling. Justices Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo dissented from the review.

Of the $1,200,000,000 processing taxes collected, approximately $200,000,000 was impounded in federal courts. Rice collections to Oct. 1 totaled $153,974. It was expected they would have been $12,900,000 by next June 30.

The millers concerned today are: Farmers Rice Milling Co., Inc., Levy Rice Milling Co., Inc.; United Rice Milling Products Co., Inc.; Rickert Rice Mills, Inc.; all of New Orleans; T. Simon and A. B. Dore, both of Crowley, La.; Noble-Trotter Rice Milling Co., Inc., of Lake Charles, La.; and Baton Rouge Rice Mill, Inc., of Baton Rouge, La.

Text of Dismissal Of Bankhead Suit

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The text of the supreme court dismissal today of the case involving the Bankhead Cotton control act:

Lee Moor brought this suit on October 23, 1934, for a mandatory injunction to compel the Texas and New Orleans railroad company to transport ten bales of cotton from Clint, Texas, to New Orleans. The company had refused to transport the bales because of the lact of the bale tags required by the cotton control act of April 21, 1934, (Secs. 10, 14, 48 Stat. 598, 604.) Moor contended that the statute was void, as an attempt to regulate the production of cotton contrary to the provisions of the fifth and tenth amendments of the constitution of the United States. On final hearing, the district court did not rule upon the constitutional question but denied the injunction and dismissed the complaint upon the ground that it had not been shown that the plaintiff would suffer irreparable injury for which he had no adequate remedy at law. The circuit court of appeals affirmed the decree (75 F. (2nd) 386) and certiorari was granted.

The complaint alleged that the plaintiff was the owner of more than 3500 acres of land in El Paso county, Texas; that the encumbrances and the taxes and charges assessed for water were such as to require that he raise and sell annually 2000 bales of cotton for at least ten cents a pound net, or lose his land through foreclosure proceedings; that his cotton would have no value unless it could be transported to cotton markets; that the cotton control act imposed a tax of fifty per cent of the average central market price per pound of lint cotton and in no event less than five cents per pound; that having ginned about 1000 bales of cotton, and being under the financial necessity of selling them, which was impossible under the statute unless he procured bale tags showing that the cotton was exempt or the tax had been paid, he had sought, under duress, and had obtained tax exemption certificates for 855 1-2 bales, the entire amount to which he was entitled; that he would raise and gin a total of about 2500 bales, each of the average weight of 500 pounds, during the year 1934 and had already ginned 1833 bales; that he had tendered, without the required tags, ten bales to the Southern Pacific railroad company for shipment to New York and ten bales to the defendant for shipment to New Orleans, but shipment had been refused solely by reason of the absence of the tags; that the average central market price of lint cotton was about twelve cents per pound, and, is transported, his cotton would be worth $60 a bale and the tax would be about $30 a bale; that if he was not permitted to move his cotton in interstate commerce he would suffer damage to the extent at least of $60,000, but that it would be impossible to determine the amount of damage accurately; that he had no adequate remedy at law and would be required to file a large number of suits based upon the refusal of the railroad companies to accept shipments. The complaint was not verified.

Move to Dismiss.

On October 25, 1934, the defendant moved to dismiss the complaint, invoking the provisions of the act as a valid enactment, and on the same day the defendant answered to the same effect.

The case was tried on October 30 and November 5, 1934. Plaintiff made two "trial amendments" which somewhat amplified the allegations of his complaint. Defendant admitted the truth of substantially all the allegations except those relating to duress in connection with plaintiff's application for exemption certificates and as to the amount of the allotment, those as to future shipments, and those containing legal conclusions as to the invalidity of the act and the tax which it imposed.

The trial court received evidence. Plaintiff did not appear as a witness. The manager of his farm testified generally as to its cotton production, the market for cotton, and the plaintiff's inability to sell or move his cotton without the bale tags; that the average central market price of cotton was about twelve cents a pound, or $60 a bale of 500 pounds; that plaintiff had borrowed $50,000 to finish harvesting his cotton, mortgaging his 855 bales as security for that loan which had been liquidated; and that plaintiff's financial condition was such that it was necessary for him to realize on his cotton. Another witness testified as to general market conditions. No testimony was offered for the defendant.

The allegations of the complaint with respect to plaintiff's financial necessities, as a ground for equitable intervention, were of the most general character and the evidence in that relation was generla and meagre. There were general statements as to encumbrances and expenses, without any showing of details. Apparently, plaintiff had disposed of the 855 exempt bales and there was no showing that he could not have obtained the money necessary to move the remaining bales. The trial court concluded that plaintiff had failed to make a case for equitable relief and should be left to his legal remedy.

The circuit court of appeals, in affirming the degree, rested its decision upon the established principle that a mandatory injunction is not granted as a matter of right, but is granted or refused in the exercise of a sound judicial discretion. Morrison V. Work, 266 U. S. 481, 490.

In this view of the record, and of the discretion which the trial court was entitled to exercise, the writ of certiorari was improvidently granted and it is dismissed.

FARMERS

way open to excise taxes if they are not linked with payments to farmers which the court considers coercive.

Many observers saw striking resemblances in the aims of the old AAA and the new program, although the latter will be carefully drawn in an attempt to meet the supreme court's objections to AAA.

The farm representatives who are remaining here will not "picket" in the ordinary sense, with placards, but their presence will be felt in the deliberations leading to actual legislation.

L. J. Taber, master of the national grange which always has been known among major farm groups as a friendly enemy of AAA, said the action of farm leaders in adopting the principles of the agricultural adjustment act as a foundation for substitute legislation was "good psychology."

He intimated opposing ideas had been subordinated to the interest of harmony but that they would be given full play when drafting of the new act got under way.

FORMER NEW YORK MAYOR HYLAN DIED OF HEART ATTACK

ASSOCIATED PRESS (UNDERWOOD).
JOHN F. HYLAN

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—New York went into official mourning today for former Mayor John F. Hylan who died yesterday of a heart attack at the age of 68.

Mayor Fiorelo H. Laguardia ordered flags on all public buildings lowered to half-mast and instructed Police Commissioner Valentine to mobilize a uniformed escort for the funeral which wil be held on Wednesday.

The body of the former mayor, who served from 1917 to 1925 and who was at his death a justice of the children's court, is to remain at his Forest Hills home until the final services at a Brooklyn Catholic church.

Judge Hylan suffered an attack of angina pectoris Saturday while traveling to his home from Manhattan. He cancelled a dinner engagement and his condition became steadily worse during the evening. Death occurred shortly after 1 a. m.

Cotton Rallied But Stocks Are Slightly Weaker

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Cotton rallied today following the supreme court dismissal of the Bankhead act appeal on jurisdictional grounds.

Down around $1 a bale before the decision the improvement lifted prices to a range of 35 cents a bale higher to 10 cents lower after the court's pronouncement.

Stocks felt the court's decision not to rule today on the TVA by cancelling early gains of small amounts to around $1 a share, and ruled steady to lower a little after the dicesion. The stock list as a whole was quiet and irregular.

Gainers of around 37 cents to $1 included U. S. Steel around $49 a share, Houston Oil at $9.75 and Wilson and Co around $10. A few utilities even to slightly lower included, American Water Works, North American Co., United Gas Improvement and United Corp.

MEETING NAVARRO COUNTY FARMERS FOR SATURDAY CALLED

A mass meeting for all farmers and other persons in Navarro county interested in the future of agriculture and particularly in the solution of urgent problems confronting the industry through the invalidation of the agricultural adjustment act has been announced for the Corsicana senior high school auditorium next Saturday afternoon, Jan. 18, at 2:30.

The call for the meeting was issued by President E. W. Ellis of the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce, after more than fifty farmers had interviewed chamber officials and asked them to call such a session.

Notices are being sent to every community in the county and several hundred producers and landowners are expected to attend the session for an open discussion of the problems confronting the farmers of the county at this time.

ABOUT SAVINGS

BANKS find savings a problem these days. It is difficult to locate suitable investments which will yield enough to cover overhead expenses and allow the payment of interest to depositors.

We mention this for one reason only: Our continued desire to see the people of this community add to their savings accounts is based on our firm belief that in good times or bad, it is a healthy and desirable thing for part of their earnings to be set aside for future spending. This reserve is an important safety factor for every man and woman. Therefore we want to do our share in encouraging it.

OVERWHELMING VOTE IN FAVOR IMMEDIATE CASH FOR VETERANS

MEASURE BACKED BY THREE VETERANS ORGANIZATIONS VOTED 355 TO 59

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10. (AP)—A crushing house majority today passed and sent to the senate a bill authorizing immediate cash payment of the bonus to nearly 3,500,000 World war veterans. Its immediate cost was estimated variously from $1,000,000,000 to $2,000,000,000.

The vote on passage was announced by Speaker Byrns at 355 to 59, more than the two thirds required to pass legislation, over a presidential veto.

The final ballot was taken before galleries packed with spectators.

The bill was backed by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign wars and disabled American Veterans.

Prompt consideration of the cash bonus issue by the Senate finance committee was promised by Chairman Harrison (D-Miss.)

Unless pressure for the house is too great, the committee was considered likely to amend the measure or vote out a less liberal one of its own, realizing President Roosevelt is opposed to full payment at this time.

Democratic Leader Robinson has conferred with the President and was believed to have conveyed the executive's attitude to all bonus camps whose representatives have been conferring in secret for several days.

Robinson was hopeful a bill can be passed that will meet executive approval.

Defeat Definite Funds Plan.

Just before final passage, the house defeated 319 to 98 a motion by Rep. Treadway (R-Mass) to return the bill to committee under instructions to require payment with unexpended relief funds.

Every seat in the galleries was occupied long before the balloting got under way.

On the floor, members were so unconcerned about the outcome that they chattered noisily. Several were reading newspapers. Speaker Byrns had to crack down his gavel repeatedly so those who had not yet voted could hear the clerk call their names.

Republicans applauded and smiled when Chairman Buchanan (D-Tex) of the appropriations committee voted "no."

Democrats got their chance to cheer when Speaker Bryns voted for the bill.

Even the galleries broke the rules by joining in the applause when Byrns announced the result of the vote.

The vote which was originally announced at 355 to 59 was later changed to 356 to 59 on official records.

Overwhelming Victory Expected in House

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Sensing a victory so one-sided as to give more power to their subsequent drive in the senate, bonus advocates drove to an imminent vote on cash payment in the house of representatives today.

Only one formality remained before today's big decision on the plan, backed by major veterans organizations, to pay off the adjusted service certificates at once to all ex-soldiers who desire to cash them now.

The formality was a vote on a suggestion to employ unused relief money to discharge the certificates. Bonus leaders said this would be struck down, since veterans' leaders are intent on divorcing disputes over financing methods from the bonus question itself.

Likewise, democratic leaders said there was not a shadow of uncertainty about passage of the veterans' bonus bill by an overwhelming margin. Its advocates say it will call for $1,000,000,000 expenditure immediately; critics say the figure will be much higher.

The depth of sentiment behind the legislation, endorsed by all house bonus blocs, was tested late yesterday when it was whisked unmarked through a gauntlet of amendments.

Four times changes were suggester and four times they were hurled aside.

The bill, authorizes, besides immediate payment, the cancellation of all unpaid interest on loans on the certificates. But former soldiers would be permitted to retain their certificates and receive 3 per cent interest until 1945.

What Bill Means to Certificate Holder

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Here is what the bonus bill passed in the house today may mean to the holder of a $1,000 bonus certificate:

If the veteran has borrowed nothing against the certificate and wants cash, he would get $1,000.

If he has borrowed $500 against his certificate and wants the rest of its value now, he would get $500.

If he has borrowed nothing and allows the certificate to mature until Jan. 1, 1945, he would receive about $1,255.

If he has borrowed $500 and allows the remainder to mature until 1945, he would receive about $567.50.

These last two possibilities are figured on the basis of final bonus passage by July 1. Earlier enactment would give the certificate-holding veterans slightly more.

The bill stipulates that if the veteran does not apply for cash before April 6, 1937—20 years after the United States entered the World war—he will draw simple interest of 3 per cent annually on the face valus of his certificates from the date of enactment.

The 3 per cent interest rate on maturing certificates would stop at the death of the veteran.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—p. Patman (D-Tex) made the following estimate today of the number of veterans, by states, holding certificates and the amount which would be paid them under the house cash payment bill:

State—	No. of Certificates	Total Value
Arkansas	43,849	$21,993,238
Kansas	57,114	31,436,036
Louisiana	53,885	27,849,762
Missouri	111,706	60,820,922
New Mexico	10,101	5,810,422
Oklahoma	67,181	35,202,769
Texas	148,771	83,696,221

PHILADELPHIA MAN SEEKS TO OVERRULE U. S. SUPREME COURT

TALK OF REVOLT AGAINST HIGHEST AUTHORITY APPARENTLY BRINGS ACTION

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—(AP)—A bill of complaint was filed in federal district court today to enjoin government executives from interfering with the operation of the AAA "until directed by the referendum vote of the people of the United States declaring in their undeniable right the constitutional status" of the Act.

The bill was filed on behalf of P. T. Vincent, identified by the attorneys filing the bill as a real estate dealer, and was directed against President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau, Chester C. Davis, AAA administrator, and their agents.

The bill recites that the supreme court by an "unbalanced decision" declared the act unconstitutional and that the president "in accordance with precedent set forth by custom alone, either personally or through an agent, issued an order nullifying and causing the immediate breakdown of the agricultural adjustment act machinery."

The complainant alleges that any decision of the supreme court "is not ipso facto the whole and compelling force that automatically converts a statute, thereinbefore enacted by congress, into an unconstitutional wreck devoid of continuing existence."

The bill declares that any decision of the court is at most "a judicial guidance" for citizens "to express by ballot whether or not such a statute governs with desire and will and whether such statute should be eradicated from the statute books or its existence be maintained."

The bill further states "there is not a scintilla of holdable evidence" in the constitution "whereby the supreme court is the last, ultimate and final resort completely determining the existence of any law by branding it with the mark of its judicial decision of the unconstitutionality."

It is further declared in the bill that the president is wholly devoid of the power to void such law until he gets a clear unequivocal mandate from the people.

The attorneys filing the bill are Arthur C. Hirst and Thomas J. Mullaney, Philadelphia.

GRANT INJUNCTION AGAINST TAX CHAIN STORES SATURDAY

DALLAS, Jan. 11.—(AP)—District Judge Royall R. Watkins issued an injunction here today restraining all state and county officials in Texas from enforcing the chain store tax law passed by the last special session of the state legislature.

The order was issued on behalf of S. H. Kress & Co., and 13 other plaintiffs in one suit, and for J. W. Cooper, for the A. & P. chain stores in a second suit. These concerns alleged the levy was illegal and unconstitutional.

Judge Watkins in 95th district court restrained State Comptroller George H. Shepherd, Attorney General William McCraw, District Attorney Robert L. Hurt of Dallas and "all other peace officers and officials" from collecting the tax or enforcing the criminal penalties for failure to pay the tax.

The law, which finally was adopted after weeks of wrangling through two special sessions of the legislature, provides for collection of taxes ranging from $1 to $750, depending upon the number of stores in each chain.

Will Resist Injunction

AUSTIN, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Attorney General William McCraw said today his department would be assisted by counsel of the Independent Wholesale Grocers association in resisting an injunction restraining enforcement of Texas' new chain store tax.

Asserting an attack on constitutionality of the act was expected, McCraw said "as to the outcome, of course that is problematical, as the bill itself was subjected to some adverse criticism even by some of those who voted for it."

Governor Allred, champion of the act, said he assumed the attorney general would act promptly to have the injunction set aside. Pat Dooley, chief clerk of the comptroller's department, delayed comment in the absence of Comptroller Geo. H. Sheppard.

Wortham Couple Observed 62nd Wedding Day

WORTHAM, Jan. 11.—(Spl.)—Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Weaver of Wortham celebrate their 62 wedding anniversary Thursday at the home of their only daughter Mrs. Mollie Melton in Mexia. Due to the fact of Mr. Weaver's ill health for the past few moths, this annual affair was not held at their country home, four miles northwest of Wortham. This time no guests were invited, but many messages of congratulations, and greetings were sent.

With the hostess on this occasion were the other children and families: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Weaver, Mr. and Mrs. Gussie Weaver, all of Wortham, and Mr. and Mrs. George Weaver of Purdon.

Mr. and Mrs. Weaver have lived in the Wortham community all their married life. Mrs. Weaver was before her marriage Miss Mary Epps of Birdston. She was eighteen at the time of her marriage. Mr. Weaver was 26 years old.

$2,000,000,000 Stabilization Act is Extended

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt today signed a proclamation extending the section of the gold reserve act establishing the $2,000,000,000 stabilization fund for one year.

The president, in announcing the proclamation, said his primary purpose was to maintain the fund for another year.

Authority for the fund, which was created by slashing the dollar's gold content would have expired on Jan. 30.

The proclamation asserted that the "emergency which existed on Jan. 30, 1934, the date of approval of the gold reserve act of 1934, has not been terminated by international monetary agreement or otherwise, but, on the contrary, continues and has been intensified in divers respects by unsettled conditions in international commerce and finance and in foreign exchange."

Asked about the prospects of international monetary stabilization, the president referred questioners to Secretary Morgenthau.

DISMISSAL MARBLE MACHINE INJUNCTION SOUGHT BY OFFICERS

OPERATORS RECEIVE ADVERSE RULINGS IN HIGHER COURTS OF STATE

Navarro county law enforcement agencies Friday stated efforts to have the injunction granted here in favor of the marble machine operators by District Judge H. F. Kirby of Groesbeck lifted and dismissed in view of the decision against the marble machine operators by the Supreme court of Texas when a writ of error was denied in the case by W. S. Antonio vs. Will Adams, et al, from Limestone county.

It had not been determined early Friday afternoon whether a motion for a rehearing on the writ would be sought or not, and District Judge Kirby advised John R. Curington, criminal district attorney, to wait until a conference of attorneys in the case was held, and promised Curington he would let him know within a short time.

The Court of Civil Appeals at Waco ruled against the injunction granted Antonio against Limestone officers and termed marble machines "gambling devices" and that court's opinion was sustained by the denial of a writ of error by the supreme court, it was stated here.

A similar suit to the Antonio case was granted Navarro county operators by Judge Kirby and hinges on the same points as the Limestone suit.

Judge Kirby advised Curington he would confer with Lester Sheppard, the attorney of Antonio, as soon as possible.

Criminal District Attorney Curington is of the opinion that the injunction will be dismissed in the near future, and announced that when the local officers hands were free to proceed, the machines would be seized if they were not removed. Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse intimated the same proceedure as outlined by the criminal district attorney.

Curington stated that one of the larger operators of marble machines told him Friday that he was going to take all his machines out at once, figuring that the higher courts had definitely ruled out the machines.

A different condition exists in Navarro county due to the injunction in force. Should the local officers proceed, they would be in contempt of court by violating the orders granted by Judge Kirby until the case is voided by the Limestone jurist. In counties where officers are not restrained by injunctions, the enforcement agencies are seizing and confiscating the machines.

Rehm Sentenced To Thirty Years Murder Policeman

SHERMAN, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Richard Rehm was convicted of murder and sentenced to 30 years' imprisonment today for the shooting of a Dallas policeman, Luke J. Bell, while trying to escape from jail in Dallas, May 18, 1934.

Defense counsel immediately made a formal motion for a new trial and said he planned to file a brief within a few days.

It was the second time Rehm had been convicted on the murder charge. His first trial was in Dallas county, where the jury assessed the death penalty. This verdict was reversed. At his second trial jurors failed to agree and the case was transferred here on a change of venue.

Rehm had been arrested and interned by Dallas authorities for treatment of a venereal disease. He attempted to escape while being transferred from the city to the county jail. He ran into a garage near the city hall and there engaged in a tussle with Officer Bell, who was shot with his own pistol.

Later Rehm fled from Dallas and was recaptured in North Texas.

It was the defense contention that he had been held illegally.

Rehm was an itinerant artist. He said he also had been an electrical engineer.

CURRICULUM EXPERT MAIN SPEAKER BEFORE SCHOOL TEACHERS

MEMBERS OF CORSICANA SCHOOL FACULTY AND OTHERS ATTENDED SESSION

Dr. J. Carl Matthews, of Austin, a member of the State Department of Education and co-director of the state curriculum revision project, was the principal speaker at the general faculty meeting of the Corsicana public schools in the junior high school auditorium Friday night. A large number of Navarro county teachers and officials from towns in surrounding counties heard Dr. Matthews' discussion of ""The Scope of the Curriculum."

Others appearing on the program were S. O. Murdock, deputy state superintendent, of Palestine; G. H. Brown, county superintendent and director of the district in curriculum revision; S. R. LeMay, superintendent of the Athens schools, also a director of the district curriculum revision work, and Superintendent W. H. Norwood of the Corsicana public schools.

Superintendent Norwood welcomed the visiting teachers, and made several announcements.

Deputy State Supervisor Murdock, assisted at the piano by Miss Lena Mae McClure, Corsicana music supervisor, led in the group singing of several songs.

Navarro County Program.

County Superintendent Brown was introduced by Superintendent Norwood, and discussed the program of revision in Navarro county. He said this year the county has been divided into eight parts to study production in the groups, and then to put the facts together. He said the first step of the plan proposed by the state department, that of orientation was started last year, and in some localities this phase has been completed, and they have gone into the production work, or the second step of the project.

Superintendent LeMay, was presented by Superintendent Norwood and catalogued the progress of revision in this district.

The Athens schoolman explained the four proposed steps of the revision plan, which include, (1) planning or orientation; (2) work and production; (3) testing and (4) corrective steps.

Progress In District.

Mr. LeMay pointed out that some points in the district are not through with their first step, some few sections are in the production stage, while "a very few if any" are in the third, or testing stage.

Dr. Matthews was introduced by Superintendent Norwood. The speaker said he had been assigned a subject which he interpreted to mean "how big is the curriculum?"

He defined the word "curriculum" in Roman to mean a circle, or endless track around which one runs. He added that it, in his opinion means "all activities of children in and out of school."

The speaker held that the curriculum involves everyone because a teacher is supposed to teach the child all that is possible, and then a little more. He continued this line of reasoning:

"How can we expect progress if we do not make it possible for children to be better teachers than we are?"

Purpose of School.

"The whole purpose of the school is to make it possible for us to live in a better world involving crime, poverty, ignorance, housing facilities, and many other phases of the everyday life," the speaker declared.

Referring again to the curriculum as a circle, Dr. Matthews said he liked to break it up into segments, including these four cardinal divisions, (1) work; (2) play (or proper use of leisure time); (3) citizenship, and (4) homelife.

Each of the above divisions was discussed in the light of the teaching profession, and the speaker brought in many technicalities of new teaching trends.

In closing, Dr. Matthews said:

"Do not look for a new and complete curriculum by next fall to be introduced with a formal ceremony; I say pick out a few things that you see clearly and try them out, and then list othsee less clearly and try them out in the future."

At the conclusion of his talk, Dr. Matthews answered a number of questions asked by those present, which dealt with present teaching trends and possible cases after curriculum revision.

MORE COTTONSEED CRUSHED IN FIVE MONTHS JUST PASSED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The census bureau today reported 3,235,291 tons of cotton seed received at mills from August 1 to December 31, compared to 3,092,248 for the same period in 1934.

Cotton seed crushed totaled 2,475,436 tons, compared to 2,183,966 for the corresponding period in 1934, while the total on hand at mills December 31 was 849,430, and the same date in 1934, 1,131,043.

Crude oil produced was 645,954,242 pounds, and on hand December 31, 131,842,842 pounds.

Refined oil produced 589,349,538 pounds, and on hand, 401,283,547 pounds.

Cake and meal produced 1,114,500 tons, and on hand 355,432 tons.

Hulls produced 635,596 tons, and on hand 192,437 tons.

Linters produced 551,536 running bales, and on hand, 181,161 bales.

Imports of crude and refined oil totaled 41,286,185 pounds, compared to 3,962,040 for the same period and the previous year.

The imports include for December 185,900 pounds crude, and 4,867,004 refined, "entirely directly for consumption," and 441,006 crude and 379,312 refined "withdrawn from warehouse for consumption," but not 751,220 refined "entered directly into warehouse."

Scientist to Speak Here Before Soybean Conference Session

DR. HARRY E. BARNARD

Dr. Harry E. Barnard, distinguished American scientist, now director of research for the Farm Chemurgic Council, Dearborn, Michigan, will discuss the industrial uses for soybeans at the East Texas Soybean conference at Corsicana, January 14-15.

This new farm crop goes to make salad oils, paints, glue, plastics, rubber substitutes, and for many other industrial uses. It probably leads all other farm crops grown in the United States in point of industrial use.

Dr. Barnard will bring to the soybean conference program a rich background of experience. New England born and educated, his first work was that of a chemist for the New Hampshire State Experiment Station.

Moving to the Middle West, Dr. Barnard served as State Food Commissioner of Indiana for 14 years. During the World war he was Federal Food Administrator for the Hoosier state.

In 1931 Dr. Barnard organized and became director of the Corn Industries Research Foundation.

It has been only in recent months that Dr. Barnard helped organize the Farm Chemurgic Council, one of the most significant movements in American industry of recent times. This Council is devoted to the advancement of the use of American farm products in industry.

The East Texas Soybean conference is being sponsored by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce. Other speakers include J. I. Morgan, president of the National Cottonseed Products Association, and W. E. Ayres, director of the Mississippi Experiment Station. The main program, on which all three of the speakers are scheduled, wil lbe held on January 15. On the night of January 14 there will be served as a feature of this conference a dinner with an all-soybean menu.

FARMING NATIONAL PROBLEM ROOSEVELT TELLS NEWSPAPERMEN

PROPOSALS TO PROVIDE SUBSIDIES NOT FAVORED BY PRESIDENT FRIDAY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—President Roosevelt, at his first farm. discussion since AAA's death today asserted his responsibility to treat farming as a national problem and re-emphasized his determination for soil conservation and control of production as the answer to the farming situation.

Talking offhand with newsmen at his regular press conference, the president turned thumbs down on proposals to provide subsidies for exports.

"We must avoid," he said for direct quotation, "any national agriculture policy which will result in the shipping of our soil fertility to foreign nations."

In a return to uncontrolled crop production, he saw a new race for short-sighted plowing of the ast middle west area, a return of the dust stors and an eventual desert land in this rich region.

Mr. Roosevelt proposed no specific plan and carefully avoided discussion of any specific farm plan to meet the situation resulting from death of AAA. However, he gave notice of an intention to seek some legislation at this session to carry out what he regards as his responsibility and, that of those he described as thinking farmers, for soil conservation and control production.

The president made no reference to the supreme court.

President's Attitude.

In answer to questions the president gave the following exposition of his attitude:

He said chhas to think of agriculture from the viewpoint of the 48 states, not separately but nationally.

He noted that a good many old

suggestions for farm relief are being reviewed with a good deal of suggestion for subsidizing exports of certain crops. Export subsidies for certain crops eventually means subsidies for exports of all crops, he added.

Because he must think of agriculture nationally rather than locally, he explained his belief that export subsidies would encourage the growing of a vast increase of agriculture production.

Referring to the wheat crop, he said there never was much of a problem with this until dry farming came along. Then the old buffalo grass was plowed up in many states, aided by the advent of modern machinery.

The result, he said, was that a very light soil was turned up and land owners started in raising wheat. Because of the great areas of each farm little attention was paid to the yield per acre because a profit was possible through bulk production.

Started Dust Storms.

The result was, he added, by plowing up of this land, dust storms began and are getting steadily worse because of the use of the land for wheat instead of cattle.

He described this dust storm area as roughly, including the Western Panhandle of Texas, Western Oklahoma, Western Kansas, Western South Dakota, Western North Dakota, a large portion of Montana, Eastern Colorado and Northern New Mexico. This area, he explained, is probably as large as all of New England, New York and New Jersey put together.

He then asserted that if the country goes in for the national agricultural principle that encourage the plowing up of land again because of the export subsidies, dust storms will continue and a vast area will be a virtual desert in which no one can live within a generation or two.

The same is true with cotton, he said. With the export subsidy he believed the average farmer may increase his land production and start going to the mountain tops with a result in an increase in the soil that runs off to the ocean.

Card of Thanks.

It is impossible for me to personally thank all of my kind, thoughtful and helpful friends who aided me in the last illness of my husband, the late J. T. Tacker, and I want to take this method of especially thanking the following: The First Methodist church, Rev. Corley, Rev. T. Edgar Neal, Rev. J. F. Four Killed In Gas Explosion In Indiana City Hall

PENDLETON, Ind., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The fourth victim of a terrific gas explosion was dug from the fire-scorched wreckage of the Pendleton town hall by salvage workers early today.

The body was that of Irvin Taylor, Pendleton toolmaker, who dropped his glasses in an abandoned cistern under the building last night and asked Town Marshal Garland Brookbank to help look for them. When the marshal lit a match, accumulated gas let loose with a blast that wrecked the two-story brick hall.

The explosion injured five members of the newly-elected town board holding its first meeting, and buried the town's fire equipment. Flames raged unchecked until firemen arrived from Anderson, eight miles away. Thirteen persons were known to have been injured.

Of four known dead, the only other body identified was that of Frank Wapienik, 24, of East Chicago, Ind., trusty at the nearby state reformatory. Two other blackened bodies pulled from the debris were believed those of transients allowed the shelter of the basement on cold nights.

Wortham Study Club Met on Wednesday

WORTHAM, Jan. 11.—(Spl.)—The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bounds was turned over to the Wortham Study Club meeting of Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Clyde Bounds as hostess, assisted by Mesdames J. T. Drumwright and T. Elmo Longbotham. Mrs. Fred Horn was director of the program, and the following were subjects presented: "Summary of Texas Food and Drug Law," by Mrs. Harry Bounds; "Rural Health," by Mrs. Gillum Poindexter; "Cleaning Up Our Town," by Mrs. John Tucker; "Parliamentary Drill," direction of Mrs. W. F. Eckhardt.

The high points of the meeting was an address by Supt. W. D. Murphy on our Wortham schools, on the efforts made for the gymnasium. Roger Seely made a talk on a new light plant for Wortham. Both of these projects are being assisted by the Business Men's Civic club.

Delicious refreshment plates were served at the conclusion of the interesting program.

The Man Who Knows

Whether the Remedy You are taking for Headaches, Neuralgia or Rheumatism Pains is SAFE is Your Doctor. Ask Him

Don't Entrust Your Own or Your Family's Well-Being to Unknown Preparations

BEFORE you take any preparation you don't know all about, for the relief of headaches; or the pains of rheumatism, neuritis or neuralgia, ask your doctor what he thinks about it — in comparison with Genuine Bayer Aspirin.

We say this because, before the discovery of Bayer Aspirin, most so-called "pain" remedies were advised against by physicians as being bad for the stomach; or, often, for the heart. And the discovery of Bayer Aspirin largely changed medical practice.

Countless thousands of people who have taken Bayer Aspirin year in and out without ill effect, have proved that the medical findings about its safety were correct.

Remember this: Genuine Bayer Aspirin is rated among the fastest methods yet discovered for the relief of headaches and all common pains . . . and safe for the average person to take regularly.

You can get real Bayer Aspirin at any drug store — simply by never asking for it by the name "aspirin" alone, but always saying BAYER ASPIRIN when you buy.

CORSICANA, TEX., JAN. 14, 1936

OMNIBUS SECURITY

Legislators are going in for security with a vengeance. The omnibus security bill prepared by Senator Frazier of North Dakota would provide at one swoop unemployment insurance for wage and salary workers; insurance of those who work for themselves, such as independent profesisonal people, farmers and small business owners; all forms of disability insurance, old age insurance, maturity insurance, mothers' insurance and widows' insurance. Unemployment benefits would be the average pay, in the occupation and the community, for the whole workless period.

For this purpose the Frazier bill would provide an immediate federal appropriation of $5,000,000,000 to get the system into operation, with subsequent financing to be accomplished through higher taxes on large incomes, corporate surpluses and other "accumulated wealth."

The scope of it is enough to give the upper income brackets apoplexy and take an ordinary taxpayer's breath away, though it doesn't seem quite so startling when its advocates explain that it is designed to take the place of the Townsend plan and other measures. Its "declaration of policy" opposes payroll taxes, sales taxes and "any other taxation which places the burden upon workers, farmers or small business men whose standard of living it is the purpose of the act to protect." Nevertheless it does suggest the general idea of pensioning everybody, of securing all of us except millionaires against all the vicissitudes of a capitalistic economy.

We may arrive some time at a point where society can give all these forms of security to all its members, but the time has hardly arrived yet. There is no safety except in careful, gradual procedure, doing no more at any time than we are sure the social and economic structure can stand.

There is always danger, too, of putting the emphasis on the wrong thing. With the moderate security system now being set up, isn't the next important step to concentrate on a positive policy of more work and production? Without that, there might soon be nothing to pay pensions with.

TRANSPORTATION.

Year-end reports tell of astonishing increases in air travel all over the country. The Cleveland airport handled 145,000 passengers in 1935, an increase of 43 per cent over 1934. All other commercial airports had heavier traffic, although their rate of gain was not so great.

A few years ago aviation developments was thought to be possible only at the expense of other means of travel. The records made in 1935, however, were accompanied by important gains in the railroad passenger business. Transportation facilities are not overdeveloped. The country needs trains, planes and busses and will use them all with profit to everybody concerned if fares are reasonable, service good, and safety maintained as far as possible.

Another proof that we're too far away from the land: A soda jerker says girls who take a bottle of milk with a straw in it think the cream's at the bottom, because it comes through the straw last.

POLITICAL PROPHECY.

Apparently the chief business in the United States this year is going to be the presidential campaign. The most modern business methods are already applied to it. Straw votes, as everyone knows, have become a big industry in themselves; and along with them, there is being organized an army of investigators, snoopers, dopesters and forecasters, all busily feeling the voter's pulse, taking his temperature, listening to his heartbeat, getting a line on his political metabolism and trying in a thousand ways to figure out how he is going to vote next fall.

Here the experience gained in feeling the business pulse during these last few years comes useful. The political sharps take over the methods of the economic sharps. Statistics, it seems, have become an exact science. Well, anyway, almost an exact science. There are experts who can tell us almost to an hour when this political influence started to work, or that political movement began to subside, and what the rate of gain or loss is for either party or any fraction in any section or state. From now until November the public will be told with finality and detail, at least once a week, just how the election is going to come out.

But nobody really knows. Never, perhaps, have there been so many shades of opinion, so many cross-currents and eddies of political and economic thought. Millions are not telling how they're going to vote. Millions don't know yet. And the situation changes continually. Even the cleverest political scientist may not be able to make a chart and plot a dependable curve for as much as a month ahead.

UP STEADILY BY JERKS

Business this year, an economist suggests, while making good progress, is not likely to make a continuous gain. It will advance and recede, mostly in short spurts.

Or to vary the picture a little, it will be like the old story of the frog climbing out of the well, gaining five feet by day and slipping back four feet at night. Some time during the year, he thinks, there will be a bigger relapse, but we shall climb out of that, too. It would come, very likely, between midsummer and election day.

The authority referred to, who attended the recent meeting of economists in New York, says he was most impressed at that gathering by the feeling of confidence in the good sense of the American people. They want a sane recovery, which pauses now and then to consolidate its gains—not another wild soar and fatal plunge like 1929.

ECONOMIC THREADS.

A business columnist who went to Washington to attend a round-up of statisticians and economists reports that sentiment expressed about the New Deal seemed to break about fifty-fifty. He continues with a non-political comment that sounds more significent.

"If there is any thread of unity in the program here," he writes, "it appears to be a theme of government control, and the belief that we shall have something like it for a long time, perhaps always. We might as well make the best of it, the speakers assume, and see that the public controls are for socially desirable ends and their methods practical."

He even found Prof. Howard L. McBain of Columbia University, who thinks the present government is "confused and haphazard," believing that the American public during the next decade or two will be demanding numerous things not now in the Constitution, and insisting on amendments to put them there.

HATCHING —By Clive Weed

A CIVILIZED PROTEST

The resignation of James G. McDonald, American commissioner for the League of Nations in behalf of German refugees, helps to bring the Jewish persecution problem to a head. He has not been able to accomplish much because he lacked authority. The league itself had dodged responsibility for his work. His retirement gives him a chance to tell the world some plain truths.

The position of the Jews in Germany, he says, starved as they are and deprived of all economic security, humiliated and discriminated against in countless ways, is "a challenge to the conscience of mankind," a threat to international peace and a source of injury to other states.

"My experiences convince me," he adds, "that nothing less is involved in this tragedy than principles basic to civilization itself. Half a million people are having their lives crushed out, with no charges brought against them except that they are not what the National Socialists choose to regard as 'Nordic.' The growing sufferings of this persecuted minority in Germany and the menace of the growing exodus call for friendly but firm intercession, by all pacific means, on the part of the League of Nations, its member states and other members of the community of nations."

This persecution seems partly based on an obsession in the mind of Hitler, a poorly educated man full of whims and prejudices, and partly on political strategy. The "Aryan" question is largely a "red herring" dragged across the trail to divert people's minds from their own troubles and the government's defects. Its basic philosophy is so unsound and its human effects are so cruel that surely some concerted effort should be made by the outer world to make the German majority realize what they are doing.

The League of Nations is the logical instrument for this purpose. It should be able to handle such race-persecution as bold as it has handled the Ethiopian problem. If ignored, the situation will lead to more trouble in Europe, not merely for the Jewish race but for other minority races.

RAILROAD SATISFACTION

American railroads have not had a happy year financially, but 1935 was a good year for them in two other ways.

First, they got through the 12 months without a strike. Twice strikes were threatened. Employees voted to walk out, but the difficulties were settled promptly by mediation.

Second, railroads got through the first 11 months of 1935 without a single passenger being killed in a train accident. The figures for December were not yet available when this announcement was made, but that month too may prove to have been a safe one for passengers.

Plenty of motorists continue to lose their lives in disputing the right of way with moving railroad trains. That, however, is a safety problem involving more than the railroads' responsibility. Their first duty is to their own passengers, and that seems to have been fulfilled.

Mussolini has started explaining to the Italian people why he isn't conquering Ethiopia faster. The real reason is quite simple. The Ethiopians are fighting for their country.

Shower Given At Rice Tuesday For Mrs. J. N. Hawkins

RICE, Jan. 11.—(Spl.)—Mesdames G. R. Long, L. R. Hall and T. B. Blount of Rice and Guy Sitton of Corsicana complimented Mrs. J. D. Spencer with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. J. N. Hawkins Tuesday afternoon at 2:30.

The reception suite was beautifully decorated with a profusion of cut flowers and ferns. Above the bride's chair was a huge rainbow and a myriad of various colored lights. As each guest arrived they were met by Mrs. Guy Sitton and presented with a corsage of sweetpeas and fern. They were directed to register in the bride's book, presided over by Mrs. G. R. Long.

Punch and cake were served in the dining room by Mrs. Sloan Wear and Mrs. L. R. Hall.

An interesting program was rendered. Miss Norlaie Bartlett sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Janis Beel. Toasts were given by Miss Tommie Hays to the bride and Miss Billie Hodge to the girls left behind. Joan Sloan, Betty Jean Bradley, Georgene Pollan and Lera Jean Spencer sang "All I Do is Dream of You." At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Blount instructed the bride to search at the foot of the rainbow for the proverbial pot of gold, which, instead was found to contain many useful and lovely gifts.

About 60 guests registered in the bride's book.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR T. J. OLIVER FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Funeral services for T. J. (Dad) Oliver, aged 87 years, pioneer resident of Navarro county, who died in the Farmer community early Thursday morning, were held from the Methodist Protestant church in Emhouse Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock with interment in the Pattison cemetery. The rites were conducted by Rev. Lawrence Shivers of Tehuacana.

Mr. Oliver was a native of Allen county, Kentucky, but came to Dallas county, Texas, in 1881, moving to Navarro county a short time later where he has resided since.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. W. B. Farmer and Mrs. J. E. Farmer, both of the Farmer community; several grandchildren and great-grandchildren and a number of other relatives.

He was well-known over the county and had taken an active interest in public affairs for many years.

The funeral was directed by the Corley Funeral Home.

Sixty-five Cars of Grain From Dawson

DAWSON, Jan. 10.—There have been sixty-five cars of grain shipped out of Dawson during the past year on the railroad and two-thirds of the cars were corn. Railroad officials estimate that 36,000 bushels have been shipped. The railroad men said this was the first corn shipped out of Dawson since the Spanish-American war.

The above shipping figures does not include cotton.

Pretty Shower Used As Announcement For Girl's Engagement

Mrs. Clyde Estell and Mrs. Clyde Owen of Emhouse were joint hostesses in an announcement shower Friday afternoon, Jan. 3, at the home of Mrs. Estell for her sister, Miss Era Faye Turner. Miss Turner is to be married to B. F. Payne, also of Emhouse, Jan. 12.

A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the decorations. Streamers and bows of pink and white were used and the gifts were attractively arranged on the dining table above which a large pink and white crepe paper wedding bell was suspended.

The shower came as a complete surprise to the honoree, who came to her sister's to "assist in making a quilt," only to discover the home crowded with her friends and neighbors. After her arrival Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Estell entertained the guests with games and Little Miss Susan Owen read "Little Mary's Essay on Husbands." The bride-to-be was then escorted to the dining room where she opened and passed the gifts. When this quite lengthy task was finished she thanked her friends very sweetly for the lovely shower and gave each one present an invitation to visit her in her new home.

Refreshments of iced lemonade with cherries, sugar cookies, and mints were served. The toast to the bride was given by Miss Maxine Parrish and Mrs. Doyle Collins replied with a toast to "The Girls Left Behind."

There were some sixty guests present and several gifts were sent by those who could not attend. Out-of-town guests present were: Miss Retta Carroll, Mrs. J. A. Jones and daughter, Mrs. Norma Martin, and Mrs. Otis Farmer, Corsicana; Mrs. J. A. Boyd and Miss Annie Rose, Boyd, Bardwell, and Mrs. L. R. Turner of Cuero, Texas.

Negro Slayer Dies In Electric Chair

HUNTSVILLE, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Henry Carr, negro, who said he had rather die in the electric chair than finish serving a 50-year sentence in the Louisiana penitentiary, was electrocuted at the Texas prison early today for murdering his wife.

Carr escaped from the Louisiana prison before he killed his wife in Tyler county, Texas. He told prison officials he preferred the electric chair to the long term in Louisiana. He admitted slaying his wife.

Newspaper Writer Died Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Death has written "30" for Harry Carr, Los Angeles newspaper columnist and author, who mirrored in words for four decades the world's passing show.

The 58-year-old writer, who started as a cub reporter on the Los Angeles Times 39 years ago, died Friday night of a heart ailment.

Keenly interested in Oriental and Mexican affairs, and the Indians of the Southwest, he wrote of these in the books, "The West Is Still Wild," "Old Mother Mexico," and "Riding the Tiger."

AWAIT DECISION

The processing tax case had far-reaching ramifications. It was a key to whether the President's budget was to be thrown further out of kilter. Also involved, many observers thought, was the question whether the administration would seek sweeping new taxes to cover enormous gaps in its revenue ledgers.

Lee Moor, a Texas planter, challenged the Bankhead act, intended to curtail cotton production by imposing a prohibitive tax on the amount ginned in excess of a quota fixed by the secretary of agriculture.

His petition, to compel the Texas and New Orleans railway to transport his cotton without tags attached to show that he had complied with the act, was dismissed by lower courts.

NEUTRALITY

ing Republican on the committee was among those who protested last week against what he termed conflicting provisions. One says America can carry on normal trade in commodities which are not munitions but are useful in war. The other declares such trade will not have the customary protection of the government.

It is cowardly, Borah was reported to have argued, to have the government say, "you can trade in peace time amounts, but we won't protect the trader."

Insurance companies would not guarantee such shipments, he was said to have told the committee and Secretary Hull, who was before it at the time. It was argued that Great Britain and France, with an eye to increased trade, would want nothing better than such a policy.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take this method of expressing our most sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends for the many acts of love and kindness and for the beautiful floral offerings given on the death and burial of our loved one, Hugh Hodge. May you all be blessed with just such true friends as we were should such sorrow ever come to you.—Mrs. Hugh Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes Fausett, Mrs. Mollie E. Hodge and Family.

No Damage From Fire.

A blazing oil cook stove caused a run for the fire department to 713 West Tenth avenue about 9:30 Sunday morning but no damage resulted. Mrs. J. T. Demass was reported to have suffered burns on her arms when she picked up the stove and carried it out of the house.

ADMINISTRATION OFFICIALS IN JITTERS AWAITING ADDITIONAL DECISIONS OF SUPREME COURT

By JAMES W. DOUTHAT
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—With nerves on edge, officials watched the supreme court today in the belief it would announce further history-making decisions. One of these opinions may determine whether manufacturers, millers and other processors will get back $1,200,000,000 in taxes levied under the outlawed AAA.

Convening again at noon, eastern standard time, in their great marble building, the nine justices could, if they were ready:

1. Straighten out the gigantic AAA processing tax tangle.
2. Say whether the new deal's power "yardstick" policy, as pursued in the vast Tennessee Valley Authority, is constitutional.
3. Speak their minds on the Bankhead act for compulsory control of cotton production.

Nobody in the capital believed there was a chance for the Bankhead act to survive. Even its author, Senator Bankhead (D-Ala.), gave up hope after the 6 to 3 decision killing AAA just a week ago today.

In that decision, overthrowing the new deal farm program as invading state's rights and exerting economic pressure to regulate agriculture, the court majority quoted, with apparent agreement, a contention that the Bankhead law was more direcly coercive than AAA.

In advance of today's session, there was no certainty whether all these cases—or any of them—would be decided. It was generally believed, however, that the court had time to prepare its opinions on at least one or two.

way open to excise taxes if they are not linked with payments to farmers which the court considers coercive.

Many observers saw striking resemblances in the aims of the old AAA and the new program, although the latter will be carefully drawn in an attempt to meet the supreme court's objections to AAA.

The farm representatives who are remaining here will not "picket" in the ordinary sense, with placards, but their presence will be felt in the deliberations leading to actual legislation.

L. J. Taber, master of the national grange which always has been known among major farm groups as a friendly enemy of AAA, said the action of farm leaders in adopting the principles of the agricultural adjustment act as a foundation for substitute legislation was "good psychology."

He intimated opposing ideas had been subordinated to the interest of harmony but that they would be given full play when drafting of the new act got under way.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Legislation to help the farmer "in so far as it is possible to do so within the limits set out in the decision of the supreme court" was forecast today by Chairman Jones (D-Tex) of the house agriculture committee.

His brief formal statement, saying that "the rights of both producer and consumer" will be considered, added:

"'Our tariff system makes a farm program necessary in the interests of the entire nation. Complete and permanent recovery can be had on no other basis.

"This country must not be permitted to sink back to the depths it had reached in 1932."

Jones' committee was scheduled to meet in a few days to tackle the big job of formulating a substitute for AAA.

HEAVY FOG BLAMED FOR CRASH DEATH OF ARMY FLIER

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A heavy fog was blamed for a plane crash in which Second Lieutenant John D. Pitman, instructor at Randolph Field, was killed near Moore, Texas, early yesterday.

The body was found in the wreckage of the plane last night and brought to Randolph Field. Officials at the field expressed belief the young flier was killed instantly.

Lieut. Pitman was on the last leg of a cross-country navigation flight. He left Asherton at 11:45 Saturday night and was not seen again until his body was found.

Lieut. Pitman came here as a flying cadet at Brooks Field from Huntsville, Ala., in 1930. He graduated at Brooks a year later and was transferred to Kelly Field. H ewas commissioned last August when he was transferred to Randolph.

Two Games Scheduled Cage League Tuesday

Two games are scheduled for Tuesday night at 7:30 and 8:30 in the YMCA Red Triangle league it was announced Monday by C. F. Broughton, physical director.

K. Wolens is scheduled to play Miles for the first game, and Purdon is to meet Pontiac at 8:30.

AIR ACTIVITY

He said most of Ras Desta's army was concentrated in the vicinity of Malka Ladir, 45 miles up the Ganale Doria from Dolo, headquarters of Gen. Rudolfo Graziani's main fascist forces, but that Ras Desta and his principal chieftains were hidden safely in ravines.

He said the aerial attacks were directed at the camps and villages of Borona and Bale, about 250 miles northwest of Dolo, far behind the Ethiopian front lines and near the sources of the web of rivers converging on Dolo.

His reports of mounting activity in the southwest accompanied the arrival of the "little rainy season" on the northern front and unseasonable rains, apparently hampering Italian activities in the southeast.

The observer said terrific heat, lack of water and widespread malaria in the southwestern desert sector made a real Italian offensive in that region unlikely, although such a campaign was predicted widely after the eastern Ogaden province drive apparently was abandoned.

COLP

it was created 12 years ago. Six years later, Dan Moody, then governor, reappointed Colp for another six-year term which ended recently. Gov. James V. Allred appointed Wendell Mayes of Brownwood to succeed Colp.

Under Colp's administration, 16 parks were completed and 18 others started.

Born on a farm near Paris, Lamar county, Colp, at the age of 14, moved with his parents to a ranch near Hondo, where he became a cowhand and later a railway ticket agent and assistant postmaster.

He moved from Hondo to San Antonio, where in the early 80's he drove a mul-drawn street car. He later was in the contracting and transfer business at Smithville, Lockhart and Fort Worth.

Survivors include the widow, two sisters, Mrs. Gertrude Deckerd of Smithville and Mrs. W. J. Blackwell of Lockhart, and a brother, C. J. Colp, of Corsicana.

sistible gale clutched the freighter just as it crossed out over the Columbia river bar, bound southward and for the east coast. Slowly, at first, the ship was forced off its course and driven northward.

S. O. S. Flashed.

The oppressive force became greater—an SOS was flashed—full speed ahead was ordered.

But the study engines of the craft were no match for the gale. The storm drove the boat back and grounded it on the spit.

Two of the six battered and oil-sweared bodies were identified. They were Marion Perich, New Orleans, and O. A. Meyers, Portland. The bodies, recovered from the southern Washington shore, were brought to a mortuary here.

Southward, at least two other ships were in touble in seas that Capt Lars Bjelland of the coast guard described as possibly the worst he had ever seen.

The Canadian vessel Rochelle repaired her steering gear damaged 15 miles off Cape Arago and proceeded after losing part of her deck cargo. The freighter Vinland also was reported to have lost deck cargo in the same area.

The last view of life aboard the Iowa was that of forms scurring up rope ladders. Then gigantic breakers shut the doomed vessel from view. Then it reappeared ghostly in the spray, bare of life.

Four coast guard boats, manned by 70 men, braved what appeared seemingly certain disaster in battling their way across the Columbia river bar and close to the site of the wreckage. All reported the Iowa was deserted and rapidly sinking in the sand. Today only a small portion of the hull was visable.

Names of Crew.

The crew list included the names of Frank Eakin, Seattle, and Frank Parker, Atlanta, Ga., who escaped because they decided at the last moment not to make the trip. In Porland, the Sailor Union of the Pacific said it had sent two men to replace Eakin and Edward Wolfsehr of Portland. The replacements were Tom Barrett, 32, Portland, and James McHenry, 26, Philadelphia.

Others named were Capt. Edgar L. Yates, Portland, who was making his first trip aboard the Iowa; First Mate Alfred G. Kreigher, Aberdeen, Wash.; Second Mate Fred W. Whitesides, Oakland, Calif.; Third Mate Lonald Graham, Seattle; Radio Operator Frank Caldwell, Portland, Caruenter J. Perich, New Orleans.

Engineers: Theodore J. Frison, and Elven Sevrine, both of Portland; V. Cloherty, Tacoma; Charles Ogan, San Pedro; Carl C. Bendiven, Bellevue, Wash.

Seamen: Walter Spencer, Chester, Pa.; Edward Mislok, Baltimore, Md.; Donald Kidd, Pepin, Wis.; Philip J. Nael, Ladner, B. C.; Otto Doehring and Wilburn W. Welter, Newburg, Oda.; Donald McLeon and Milton A. K. Olsen, Seattle; Johannes Aben, no address.

Oilers: Edward Wolfsehr, Portland; James McHenry, 26, Philadelphia; Tom Barrett, 32, Portland, Ore.

Firemen: Charles Steinmetz, Portland; Homer T. Mercereau, Seattle; James W. Welch, Braddock, Pa.

RUDYARD KIPLING CRITICALLY ILL IN ENGLISH HOSPITAL

EMERGENCY OPERATION IS PERFORMED ON FAMOUS BRITISH WRITER

By BURDETTE JOHNS

LONDON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The condition of Rudyard Kipling, Great Britain's famous bard, was stated to be "very grave" at 5:30 p. m. today, eight hours after he had undergone an emergency operation in a London hospital for a gastric disorder.

Kipling took a turn for the worse late in the afternoon. Only a few hours earlier his condition had been described as "satisfactory."

The poet, who observed his 70th birthday anniversary just two weeks ago today, was stricken in a suite of Brown's Hotel and in a semi-conscious condition, was taken in an ambulance to the Central Middlesex Hospital this morning.

The first hospital announcement said "an urgent operation was performed." The noon bulletin said the patient was "doing as well as could be expected."

He arrived at the hospital at 8 a. m., and his condition was so critical that an emergency orepation was decided on. He was taken to the operating theatre at 9:15 a. m.

The operation requiring almost two hours, was performed by Dr. Alfred E. Webb-Johnson, honorary surgeon of the Middlesex Hospital.

An assistant secretary of the hospital said:

"It was a very urgent, complicated operation, but the patient's condition is fairly satisfactory now."

Mrs. Kipling accompanied her husband to the hospital, remained in an ante-room during the operation and returned later to the hotel.

Kipling, noted author of ballads and tales of adventure in India, observed his 70th birthday anniversary Dec. 30 at his secluded home in the village of Burwash, Sussex.

He gave every indication then of good health, but the Middlesex Hospital announced today:

"We regret to state that Mr. Rudyard Kipling was taken seriously ill during the night and was admitted to the Woolavington wing of the Middlesex Hospital this morning, when an urgent operation was performed."

Foster Retires As Editor Houston Press

HOUSTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Marcellus E. Foster today relinquished his post as editor of the Scripps-Howard Houston Press and Allan C. Bartlett, former editor of the San Diego, (Calif.) Sun, succeeded him.

Foster, who has been an active newspaperman here for more than 40 years, retired on the advice of his physician. He was named editor emeritus and will write a daily column for the Press.

YOUR FEET

BEAUTIFUL FEET

If you follow Miss Forbes' advice about pedicuring, you will have the best-looking feet of anyone you know, and also the most comfortable.

Take the money (even if it means economizing in other ways) and go to a chiropodist for a thorough treatment. Ask him the best way for you to take care of your feet yourself, so you will always be comfortable. For if you find out how to keep your feet comfortable, you will also improve thier good looks.

E. K. Forbes

For one thing, he will probably tell you to wear shoes that are longer. Most women crowd their toes into short shoes, pointed so the toes are pinched together and overlap. Side pressure or back pressure causes ingrowing toenails, for the flesh has to go somewhere and it is pushed up around the large toenails. This is painful and disfiguring. As for beauty—a well-cut five-and-a-half is far better looking and smaller looking than a cheaply cut size five! A rounded toe, rather low heel shoe is really the smartest for street wear these days—such a shoe looks right; therefore is more fashionable than a pointed, spindle-heel pump.

Most likely you will never ach supports. These are made now of the softest leather, with pockets sewn under them, into which you put sponge rubber discs, just large enough to raise the fallen bones of the metatarsal arch. This is the arch just back of the toes. If you have a lot of pain in the feet, weak ankles, and if the middle bones of the feet seem to sink down—then you need this support. You can also have pads put in under the main arch, should you require support here. Your chiropodist will tell you this, and also will fit the arch supports.

You must not have stiff leather ones, nor those braced with metal—soft leather is best, with pads to support the weak bones.

M. L. B.—Instead of piling powder upon powder on your skin over the day, try douching your face and neck in cold water sometime during the day, and then follow it with a light coating of powder. You might do this at your noon lunch hour, and it will also refresh you all over your body. This facial douche will check the oily secretions and lead to a permanent cure of the trouble. So much powder mixed with this oil secretion will soon coarsen the pores, and encourage blackheads to settle in the skin.

SOME INFORMATION ON APPLICATION OF VETERANS FOR CCC

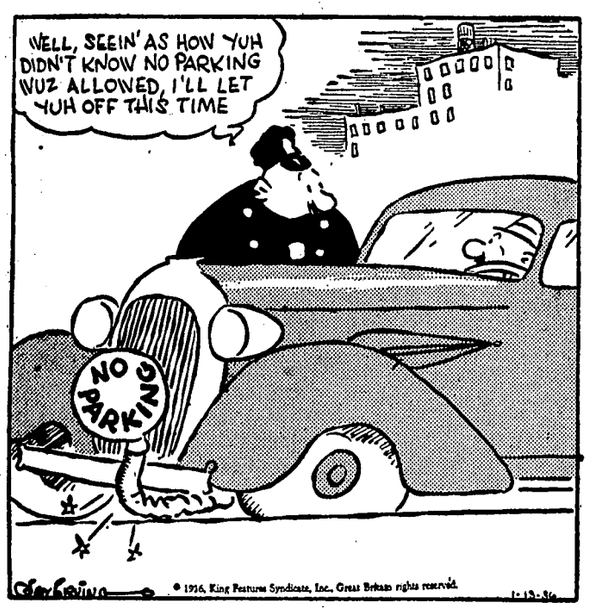

The following excerpt from a letter dated January 8, 1936 from I. F. Hyde, chief of contact, regional office, Veterans' Administration, Dallas, to Mrs. R. B. Mitchell, executive secretary, Navarro County chapter, American Red Cross, will be of interest to war veterans, who have filed applications for the CCC and to those who contemplate filing:

"No selections for the work by this office have been made since October, 1935, and we are now in receipt of information to the effect that no further enrollment of men will be made during the quarter January 1-March 31, 1936. Whether or not another enrollment will be made subsequent to that time, we are not in position to state, however, all applications submitted by veterans will be retained at this station for consideration in the event another enrollment should be authorized."

Well Being Drilled.

WORTHAM, Jan. 11.—(Spl.)—The Rushing-Peyton well, located in Navarro county, about four miles northwest of Wortham, was reported at a depth of 1500 feet Thursday. Surface casing was set Tuesday and drilling is proceeding day and night. The location is about 60 feet south of the Rushing-Keeling No. 1 that was not completed. Peyton Bros. of Mexia are drilling the well and some leasing has been turned at attractive prices.

New York Cotton Steady.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1 to 9 lower on disappointing Liverpool cables and under liquidation and southern selling. Jan. 11.78; March 11.09; May 10.75; July 10.45; Oct. 10.01; Dec. 10.00.

Trading was moderately active with cotton interests inclined to await clarification of the tentative proposals for a new farm program based on soil conservation.

Transactions were somewhat mixed. Liverpool was credited with buying while the Far West and the continent were sellers. Houses with southern connections were sellers of summer positions, and prices were fairly steady at losses of about 3 to 12 points at the end of the first hour.

Prices renewed their sagging tendency later in the morning when selling developed from Liverpool sources and offerings from locals in the south following. March contracts eased from 11.10 to 11.03 and Oct. from 10.04 to 9.88, or 16 net losses of 14 to 20 points lower. Prices at mid-day were within a point or two of the lowest.

Futures closed steady, 1 lower to 5 higher. Spot quiet; middling 11.95.

New Orleans Cotton Lower.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Poor cables touched off sufficient selling here today to bring a decline of 9 to 14 points in cotton futures at the start of the week's trading.

With domestic trade waiting to see what the government would do to replace the farm benefit program, the market took its lead from foreign exchanges.

Jan. showed the sharpest decline at the opening call, losing 14 points to 11.54, while March at 11.04, May at 10.68, and Oct. at 9.99 were off an average of 50 cents a bale.

The supreme court's decision on the processing tax and the dismissal of the Bankhead act suit had little immediate reflection in prices. The volume of business accelerated and in the case of July and October ran up to small net gains, but other positions held around opening levels.

Jan. sold at 11.6, SMarch at 10.78, July at 10.48 and Oct. at 10.08 soon after the court's ruling was made public.

ROXY

also was one of the first of the well-known showmen to present his stage show on the radio. "Roxy and his Gang" was one of the first nationally-known radio acts.

At the height of his career he organized a building company which erected the huge Roxy theater in New York, a structure with a seating capacity of 6,221.

Rothafel, believed to be in the late fifties, was born in Stillwater, Minn. From 1900 to 1907 he served in the United States Marine Corps, retiring with the rank of major.

He entered the motion picture business in the Pennsylvania coal region, operating theaters in various cities. He went to Minneapolis where he developed his talent for stage shows and was eventually summoned to the Strand theater in New York, one of the first "de luxe" cinema houses on Broadway.

There, permitted free rein in the staging of his "presentations," Roxy became the best known exhibitor in the country. Theaters throughout the country made use of his idea and added stage presentations to their programs.

Blanton Attacked Yellow Newspapers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Rep. Blanton (D-Tex) today attacked "yellow newspapers" which he said have been creating sympathy for Bruno Richard Hauptmann, condemned slayer of the Lindbergh baby.

In a speech on the floor of the house, Blanton read headlines which said Governor Harold G. Hoffman of New Jersey would order the arrest of Dr. John F. Condon, Lindbergh kidnaping intermediary.

"Hoffman has no more right to order the arrest of Dr. Condon than I have," said Blanton. "If Hoffman authorized the statement in that headline he ought to be impeached."

Blanton said no governor has the authority to order the arrest of anybody.

"People are tired of yellow newspapers," said Blanton. "That type of journalism does more to arouse mob spirit than any other thing."

"Lindbergh was forced to leave his native soil and flee to a foreign land to secure safety and security," said Blanton. "The reason there is no kidnaping in Great Britain is because the government and the people of Great Britain won't tolerate it."

Wheat Lower.

CHICAGO, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Virtually disregarding the United States supreme court process tax decision in the rice millers' case, wheat averaged lower today.

There was a short-lived rally of values following the decision, but traders afterward concluded the status of taxes actually collected remained in doubt. Under such circumstances, prices again sagged.

Wheat closed unstable at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 cent lower, May 1.00-1.00 1-8, corn, 1-4 to 7-8 down, May 59 7-8@60, oats unchanged to 1-8 off, and provisions varying from 20 cents setback to a rise of 2 cents.

FEW SURPRISES IN COURT DECISION ARE FOUND BY MARKETS

POWER SHARES LOSE BUOYANCY AFTER TVA RULING NOT HANDED DOWN

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—A late rally in the rails helped to brighten today's stock market picture. Packing, oil and specialty issues were also in demand.

Supreme court rulings apparently did not stir the list unduly. Despite considerable profit taking in spots, there were many gains of fractions to a point or more. The close was steady. Transfers approximated 2,650,000 shares.

By VICTOR EUBANK,
Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—The stock market found few surprises in today's supreme court decisions and selection buying of oil, packing and specialty issues kept the list generally pointed upward.

The utilities were the best performers in early trading, but when the expected TVA decision was not handed down, the majority of power shares lost their buoyancy. The activity was not pronounced during the greater part of the session. A few of the recently conspicuous gainers backed up under realizing.

Cotton sagged at the start, but came back when the high tribunal dismissed the Bankhead case. Grains were lower. Rail bonds were in demand and U. S. government securities improved. The dollar steadied in foreign exchange transactions.

Among share gainers of fractions to around a point were Du Pont, Santa Fe, Ohio Oil, Standard Oil of N. J., Wilson and Co., Armour, Sparks Withington, U. S. Steel and Standard Brands. Down as much were Westinghouse Liggett and Myers B General Motors, United Aircraft and Boeing. Most of the rails, steels and motors were narrow. Air Reduction dropped 8 points on a small turnover.

Efforts of the administration to whip into shape a substitute for the invalidated AAA were being watched closely in the financial district.

Proposals to settle the soldiers' bonus by means of "baby bonds" without the imposition of new taxes, were also studied by banking quarters.

At the same time the revival of European fears of American inflation, while not particularly disturbing to the Wall Street sector, were not being neglected by foreign observers in their summation of speculative and investment facotrs.

Curb Quiet.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Quiet strength in the utility issues was the sole feature of curb market trading today.

Changes were narrow throughout the list, and a few scattered losses among metals and industrials injected a tinge of irregularity.

Fractional improvement was shown in Electric Bond and Share, Niagara Hudson, Cities Service and American Gas.

LARGE ATTENDANCE EXPECTED SOYBEAN CONFERENCE HERE

AFFAIR STARTS OFF WITH SOYBEAN DINNER ON TUESDAY EVENING

Corsicana is scheduled to be the mecca of farmers, business men, and cotton oil mill operators Tuesday night and Wednesday for the soybean conference sponsored by the East Texas Chamber of Commerce in co-operation with the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce.

Reservations for the dinner which will feature a "soy" menu, Tuesday night had reached near a capacity stage Monday morning. Hotel reservations were reported large for both of the sessions, and advance indications were sufficient to cause local officials to change the site of the day conference from the auditorium of the Corsicana public library to the First Baptist church.

National leaders in the field of soybean culture and research have been secured for the conference, which is expected to draw delegations from more than half of Texas and from several surrounding states.

The meeting will open with a dinner at the Navarro Hotel at 7 o'clock Tuesday night with C. C. Roberts presiding, and A. G. (Pat) Mayse, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, and H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas A. and M. College extension service, as principal speakers.

The menu for the evening will consist of soybean products and will include soy-tomato soup, soybean roast, soybean fried meat, soybean cheese, soybean spaghetti, sprouted soybean salad, soybean bread, soybean butter, soybean mayonanise, Soybean milk, soybean ice cream and soybean coffee.

On the Wednesday program, the whole soybean story will be presented, beginning with "Soybeans As an East Texas Farm Crop," by W. E. Ayres, director of the Mississippi experiment station, Stoneville, Miss. Mr. Ayres is one of the pioneers in bean culture, and has been experimenting with soybeans since 1917 and his work has covered four states.

Distinguished Scientist.

"Industrial Uses for Soybeans" will be presented by Dr. E. B. Barnard, director of research for the Farm Chemurgic Council of Dearborn, Mich. Dr. Barnard is a distinguished scientist with an outstanding record for public service and is one of the guiding directors of the foundation to advance the use of American farm products in American industry.

During the afternoon, the preparation of soybeans for the market will be discussed by J. I. Morgan, president of the National Cottonseed Products Association of Farmville, N. C. Mr. Morgan has been successfully crushing soybeans in his mill in North Carolina with little change in the regular machinery.

"Present Experience With Soybeans in the Farm Program of Texas and Louisiana" will be the concluding address of the conference by L. E. Robinson, agricultural agent of the L. & A. Railway Company. Each of the talks will be followed by a round-table discussion conducted and led by outstanding Texas scientists and educators.

In connection with the conference, a display of soybeans, products, and harvesting machinery will be on display in the lobby of the Navarro Hotel and on the vacant lot adjoining the hotel on the north. Exhibits for the display have been arriving in Corsicana for several weeks from all parts of the United States, and local officials report that the products are of such a wide variety that the general public would be well repaid for the time spent in visiting the presentation.

HEAVY RAINFALL DURING 1935 CUT LOCAL WATER CONSUMPTION TO LOWER FIGURE THAN AVERAGE

Abnormal rainfall in Corsicana during the past year was clearly reflected in the records of the pumping plant of the Corsicana water department at Lake Halbert, when the daily average dropped almost 150,000 gallons per day below the 1934 figure.

Only two months in the lear showed a pumping average of a million gallons per day, compared with three in 1934, and the per capita usage dropped from 67 gallons per day to 56 during the past year.

Even the use of summer rates failed to boost the monthly totals to an appreciable extent as continued showers throughout the usual dry season prevented the necessity of the usual "yard watering."

Total consumption for the year was 313,240,000 gallons, with a daily average of 858,090 gallons. In only three out of the past 11 years has consumption been as low according to the records of the water department. With the inclusion of the 1935 totals, Corsicana has used about three and a half billion gallons from Lake Halbert and at the present time has a lake almost filled to its capacity of two and a half billion gallons, fully certified for all uses by the U. S. public health service. In addition, repairs are now under way at the lake to the dam, rebuilding of roads, and installing of bridges and low water dams to prevent silting of the lake that are supplying employment of more than 200 men and will cost approximately $100,000 when completed.

Pinky Tomlin Will Warble His Latest Hit Ideal Tuesday

Pinky Tomlin, who wrote songs to get into the movies is still writing songs and contributes his newest hit to "Paddy O'Day," the new Jane Withers picture which comes Tuesday to the Ideal theatre.

The tall, thin, shy, spectacled comedian wrote two of the outstanding hits of the past year in "The Object of My Affections" and "What's the Reason." His new song, which he also vocalizes in "Paddy O'Day," is "Changing My Ambitions."

Other tunes, which come from the pens of Harry Akst, Sidney Clare and Edward Sliscu, include the new Jane Withers hit, "Keep That Twinkle in Your Eye" and "I Like a Balalaika."

Directed by Lewis Seiler, "Paddy O'Day" recounts the comic and near tragic adventures of a little immigrant Irish girl in New York. Rita Cansino, Jane Darwell and George Givot are included in the supporting cast.

HAUPTMANN

from Chicago with a story he said he had obtanied from a prisoner in a Chciago jail that three men had $22,000 of the ransom paid for Charles A. Lndbegh, Jr., made no public appearance. The state police said he had written them last March, but did not reply to a request for details.

Governor Harold G. Hoffman was absent from the capital long past his usual hour for appearing.

At Mount Holly Ellis H. Parker, county detective and friend of the governor, expressed doubt that Hauptmann would do other than reiterate his innocence no matter what the pressure. Parker said he was not working on any clues which might develop before Friday.

Finnigan decided to fly here after Governor Hoffman said he was interested. On arriving at the Camden, N. J., airport the lawyer talked by telephone with C. Lloyd Fisher, chief of Hauptmann's counsel.

Fischer said any new evidence was welcome, but he added:

"I'd rather see the ransom money."

Hoffman, informed of the lawyer's arrival, said:

"It's always been my understanding that all the money was recovered."

Captain John J. Lamb, head of the detective division of the state police, said today that Finnigan had written on March 28 last year that he had a client who had told him the names of three men who "might" have information leading to some of the ransom money.

Lamb said Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the state police, wrote Finnigan two days later and asked that he supply additional details so the matter could be investigated, but no reply was received.

The Chicago attorney had first reported the matter to the bureau of investigation of the department of justice in New York and Washington, Lamb said.

Dodds and Burkinshaw were retained by a group of prominent Washington citizens to act for Charles Harris, sentenced to die in January, 1935, for the slaying of Milton Harris, a Washington gambler. He had been convicted on circumstantial evidence.

Won Commutation.

They won a reprieve and subsequent commutation to life imprisonment by President Roosevelt.

Burkinshaw was a cub reporter on the Washington Times under Marvin H. McIntyre, now a secretary to President Roosevelt. He served in 1915 on the Ford peace ship as Aide to William C. Bullitt now American ambassador to Russia.

Dodds practiced law in Michigan until 1924 when he became special assistant to the attorney general in Washington. Burkinshaw was an assistant district attorney for a time.

Fisher would not explain why they have been engaged. He also declined to say if he would seek a writ of habeas corpus in federal district court at Newark today, but such an action is one of the three remaining means by which the execution can be stayed.

While lawyers drafted their last minute plans, Anna Hauptmann knelt in the Trinity Lutheran church here and, scarcely noticed, prayed that the life of her husband be spared.

"We will fight on," she said, "to the end of the road."

Governor Hoffman, who once visited Hauptmann in the death cell and who has said he does not believe Hauptmann's execution will solve the Lindbergh case, was asked in New York yesterday if he intended to halt the execution, set for 8 p. m. Friday.

Doesn't Know Own Plans.

"I don't know yet what I am going to do about it," he said.

He reiterated that there were "plenty of precendents" under new Jersey law for a 90-day reprieve.

There were reports that the governor told the court of pardons he could, if he desired, reprieve Hauptmann for as long as he (the governor) held office, but from other sources close to the court these reports were denied.

Attorney General David T. Wilentz, who directed the prosecution of Hauptmann, indicated today that if the governor should grant a reprieve he would not challenge its legality.

No word has been received from Dr. John F. Condon, the "Jafsie" of the ransom negotiation who sailed Friday night on a Southern cruise. He will land at Cristobal, C. Z., on the day set for Hauptmann's execution.

Governor Hoffman declared that in saying Saturday he believed Dr. Condon "should have been taken into custody for questioning," he was merely expressing an opinion.

"I deny that I ordered any official to request the arrest of Condon," he said.

Should Have Been Questioned.

The governor explained, however, that he believed the aged Bronx schoolmaster should have been questioned because of his statement that he had been offered $250,000 to change his testimony and because of his letter to the New York Times indicating that more than one person was guilty.

At the state prison Col. Mark O. Kimberling, warden, went forward with arrangements for the execution. Hauptmann, he said, retains his characteristic calm.

Tears came to Hauptmann's eyes when his lawyer broke to him the news that the pardon board had refused clemency, but his only comment was:

"I have told the truth. I can tell no other story."

There was some opinion that the opening of the legislature tomorrow might be accompanied by an airing of the case.

A statement by Former Senator Emerson Richards charged that Governor Hoffman saw in the case a chance to bolster his chances for the republican presidential or vice presidential nomination,

HIGHER OIL PRICES SPREAD OVER ENTIRE MID-CONTINENT AREA

LEADING CRUDE PURCHASERS IN MANY FIELDS JOIN IN PRICE ADVANCE

TULSA, Okla., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Higher prices were being paid today for two thirds of the nation's output of crude oil as the price increase announced for Texas Thursday spread over the entire mid-continent field, covering six states.

The increase for Oklahoma and Kansas, announced yesterday, was 10 cents a barrel flat, bringing the top price to $1.19.

The new prices for Oklahoma and Kansas were announced yesterday by the Stanolind Crude Oil Purchasing Co., Standard of Indiana subsidiary, and other leading buyers soon followed. By last night nearly every buyer in the mid-continent had announced it would meet the increase and all were expected to be in line early today.

Virtually every purchaser in Texas also met the price increases in that area yesterday, following the advance by the Sun Oil Co., of five cents for North Texas, 10 cents for gulf coast and 15 cents for East Texas.

Louisiana, New Mexico and Arkansas also were included in the increase by several companies.

The Texas Company boosted prices for North Louisiana crude five cents to a top of $1.08. Smackover, Arkansas, received the same hike.

In West Texas and New Mexico, the price increases varied among the companies with Humble taking the lead with an increase that amounted to as much as 25 cents a barrel in isolated cases.

The Humble schedule is based on gravity, starting at 75 cents for 27 gravity and below, to a top of 85 cents.

Magnolia, Shell, Texas and others posted a flat increase of 10 cents, bringing Yates shallow to 75 cents, Winkler and Pecos to 85 cents and Crane, Upton, Howard, Glasscock and Mitchell counties to 80 cents.

At Fort Worth E. B. Roeser, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, saw the increases as a "step in the right direction."

Standard Boosts Prices.

SHREVEPORT, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Effective at seven a. m. today, the Standard Pipe Line company of Louisiana boosted the price of North Louisiana and Arkansas crude oil.

The new schedule boosted the price of Caddo, Homer, Haynesville, Sabine (including Zwolle and Converse) Sarepta, Cartersville, Rodessa, all in North Louisiana and Miller County, Ark., and El Dodaro, Ark., seven cents per barrel making a top price for forty gravity and above of $1.10. The price scale ranges down with a two-cent differential for each gravity degree below 25 which is 78 cents.

The posting for Rodessa was the first announced, it previously having been included in Caddo postings.

The Standard boosted the price at Smackover, Ark., five cents to 75 cents and Nevada county, Ark. five cents to 65 cents.

Gulf Hikes Oil Price.

HOUSTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Gulf company today poined the parade of the mid-continent area to higher crude oil prices, boosting its postings five to fifteen cents a barrel, effective yesterday. With the Gulf's action, all major purchasers had raised their prices.

The Gulf's new offers were virtually the same as those posted by most of the other companies.

Phillips Meets Price.

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Jan. 10.—(AP)—The Phillips Petroleum company today met the 10-cent crude price increase in Oklahoma and the increase posted by Humble in the Texas Panhandle.

Magnolia Adds to List.

DALLAS, Jan. 10.—(AP)—Effective yesterday at 7 a. m., the Magnolia Petroleum Company hiked crude oil prices in Louisiana and Arkansas, along with Texas.

For the Pine Island, Haynesville, Bull Bayou, Cotton Valley districts of Louisiana, and the El Dorado and Rainbow districts of Arkansas, the company paid a top price of $1.08 per barrel for 40 gravity oil and above, and ranged downwards two cents to 29 gravity and below. It represented an increase of five cents per barrel.

In the El Dorado east field, an 80 cent price was posted, or a 10 cent increase. The same applied in the Smackover district, Arkansas.

The company paid a top price of $1.12 for 34 gravity and above in the Iowa-Louisiana district and the Cameron Meadow field, Cameron parish, Louisiana, with prices decreasing two cents per barrel down to below 20 gravity.

In the Lockport-Louisiana district, $1.22 was paid for 34 gravity and above, with the same two cent decrease offered to below 20 gravity.

Gilliland Posts Increase.

GLADEWATER, Texas, Jan. 10.—(AP)—It was announced here today that the Gilliland Refining company and its associate company, the Producers Crude Oil Purchasing company, had met the posted price of $1.15 per barrel for East Texas oil. The advance was retroactive to Jan. 8 at 7 a. m.

Mexia Hog Law Is Now in Full Force

MEXIA, Jan. 11.—(Spl.)—Mexia's new hog ordinance program, prohibiting the keeping of pigs within most of the residential and business districts of Mexia, is now in effect, and strict enforcement is promised by city officials.

The ordinance was adopted by the city council after repeated complaints by citizens, who said their neighbors had permitted hog pens to become a menace.

FOUR YOUNG NEW YORK POLICE SLAYERS ELECTROCUTED WITHIN EIGHTEEN MINUTES LAST NIGHT

OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 10.—(AP)—Just 18 minutes were required to put to death in the electric chair four young slayers of a New York policeman—grim aftermath to a crime career into which they were led by a middle-aged "Fagin."

Newman Raymond, Jr., 21, son of Major Newman Raymond, Sr., Alexandria, Va., contractor and former evangelist, was the first of the four to die.

While the elder Raymond, who, in 1913, was an independent candidate for mayor of New York, stood in the prison yard, emotionally exhausted and mute from grief, the son walked slowly to the chair. The father's request to accompany him was denied.

At five-minute intervals, the state then exacted the extreme penalty of Amerigo Angelini, 20; Thomas Gilbridge, 20, and Ray Orley, 21.

It was the first time in 15 years that four men had been electrocuted at Sing Sing in one night.

The four, convicted of killing Patrolman James Killon in the holdup of a New York luggage store a year ago, had received their start in crime from Nelson Clark, one-time candidate for governor of Massachusetts, now serving a 10-to-20-year sentence for first degree robbery.

Almost up to the time that Executioner Robert Elliott took charge of the four in the death house, they had hoped for a reprieve from Governor Lehman.

WELL-STOCKED CAMPAIGN CHEST IS FORECAST AFTER CONVENTION CITY BRINGS IN SUM OF $200,000

By NATHAN ROBERTSON
Associated Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The democratic party was off to a flying start today toward a well stocked campaign chest, by virtue of selecting Philadelphia for its convention city and the recent series of Jackson Day dinners.

Complete reports on returns from the 2,000 Jackson Day dinners will not be known for several days, but the party-treasury held a cool $200,000 in cash from the Pennsylvania city which won the convention late yesterday after a stiff bidding contest.

The decision of the National committee carries the democratic convention into the heart of the industrial east, home grounds of many of the business men who oppose the new deal.

In some quarters the selection was interpreted as a move indicating an aggressive democratic campaign for the electoral votes of the thickly-populated eastern states. It will be the first democratic convention ever held in Philadelphia.

But Chairman Farley has discounted the political importance of the convention site. It was apparent that in selecting Philadelphia, the committee was moved as much, if not more by financial considerations than others.

Chicago had been reported in the lead for the convention when the national committee met. But the Illinois city offered only $150,000. San Francisco bid $201,000 but did not put up the money.

Philadelphia's republican mayor, S. Davis Wilson, offered $200,000 in cash plus a free convention hall, and a number of other concessions. He estimated the total value of the bid at $250,000 to $300,000.

The convention will meet June 23, two weeks after the republicans convene in Cleveland. This is the usual time for both gatherings. For many years the republicans have been meeting first.

"JAFSIE" OF LINDBERGH KIDNAP CASE FAME LEAVES ON SOUTHERN CRUISE AS END OF CASE NEARS

By DONALD C. BOLLES
Associated Press Staff Writer.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—(AP)—The "Jafsie" of the Lindbergh kidnaping case sailed southward today for a rest after learning the New Jersey court of pardons would not call him for Bruno Richard Hauptmann's mercy plea.

With his departure known in advance to only a few intimate friends, Dr. John F. Condon sailed last night on the South American-bound steamer Santa Rita with his daughter, Mrs. Ralph Macker, wife of a West Englewood, N. J., architect.

Turning temporarily from American shores as Col. Charles A. Lindbergh did last month, Dr. Condon said he did not know just where he would go or when he would return. He indicated he might spend considerable time in Panama.

The Grace Liner goes through the Panama Canal and as far south as Valparaiso, returning to New York Feb. 18.

His unheralded departure on the eve of the board of pardons session to decide whether to halt the scheduled execution of Hauptmann occasioned some surprise among prominent figures in the case.

Gov. Harold G. Hoffman, who has inquired into some of "Jafsie's" activities in the case, told William S. Conklin, one of his aides, that the departure was "highly significant in view of Dr. Condon's actions and statements since the Flemington trial."

David T. Wilentz, New Jersey state's attorney general and Hauptmann's prosecutor, said he had been apprised of Dr. Condon's plans several days ago and had assured him he was not wanted as a witness at the hearing.

One of the central figures in the world-famous case since Colonel Lindbergh accepted his offer to aid in the search for his kidnaped son, Dr. Condon was in fine spirits as he boarded the liner three minutes before it was scheduled to sail.

Dr. Condon was reticent about discussing the kidnaping case, but again indicated he hoped the death sentence would be carried out soon.

It was a year ago yesterday that Dr. Condon concluded two days on the witness stand. He pointed his finger at Hauptmann as the man to whom he had paid $50,000 of Colonel Lindbergh's money in a vain effort to ransom the Lindbergh baby, later found dead.

LANDSLIDES AFTER QUAKE KILL MANY COLOMBIAN PEOPLE

ONE TOWN AND FOUR VILLAGES WIPED OUT; FEARED 300 LIVES LOST

BOGOTA, Colombia, Jan. 11.—(AP)—More than 300 deaths were feared today to have resulted from landslides which crushed the town of Tuquerres and four villages in Colombia's southwestern Narino province after a violent earthquake.

The government of this South American republic commissioned Minister of Industries Martinez to organize relief work in the stricken district. He arranged to fly immediately to Pasto, capital of Narino province.

Belated dispatches from Pasto, bringing only skeleton advices through interrupted communication lines, said the landslides descended Thursday night after the entire Narino province area experienced the strong earthquake.

First reports said more than 36 persons died as the town of Tiquerres and the villages of Sapuyes, Alban and Pinzon were destroyed.

Later dispatches from Pasto reported that the hamlet of La Chorrera, near Tiquerres, was obliterated by the landslides and that more than 200 persons were believed killed.

Even greater casualties were feared as the landslides affected a heavily populated district.

SOVIET RUSSIA IS PREPARING DEFEND NATIONAL BORDERS

AGGRESSIVE INTENTIONS OF NEIGHBOR NATIONS CHARGED BY SOVIET

By JOHN LLOYD
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

MOSCOW, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Soviet Russia directed its already mighty military defenses toward the "highest attainable plane" today, charging its neighbors with "aggressive intentions."

Premier Vyacheslaff Molotoff, announcing the military program to the All-Union Central executive committee, declared the nation's industrial and agricultural production likewise was ever increasing.

A large increase in the Soviet Union's armed defenses was necessary, the president of the council of commissars told the executive committee last night, because of the "aggressive intentions of Japan and Germany."

Soviet industrial production as a whole, he announced, was 16 per cent greater in 1935 than in 1934, and would be even greater in 1936 by 20 per cent of the 1935 production. He said agricultural production would increase 24 per cent.

The committee, highest governmental organ of the U. S. S. R. when the All-Union Congress of Soviets is not in session, continued its meeting today in the Kremlin, ancient citadel of Russia's rulers, after an opening session last night in the remodeled throne room of the czars. Dictator Joseph Stalin and other Soviet leaders attended.

Premier Molotiff, pointing out that both Japan and Germany have left the League of Nations, charged both "have aggressive intentions."

WHITE MAN BEATEN AND SHOT TO DEATH BY GROUP NEGROES

POSSES ARE SCOURING AREA ALONG LOUISIANA-TEXAS LINE FOR ONE NEGRO

CARTHAGE, Texas, Jan. 11.—(AP)—Seven negroes were held in jail here and an eighth was sought by posses near the Louisiana-Texas line near Bethany today in connection with the slaying of Gordon Walton Harris, 37, near Bethany yesterday.

The slaying occurred when Harris sought to evict negro tenants on a farm he had recently rented and which the negroes had lost through foreclosure.

The negro being sought was John Pipkin, Jr., believed to have been wounded by Harris.

One of the negroes held here, Jack Davis, was shot in the head. Others held were John (Bud) Pipkin and his wife, parents of the fugitive, the wife of John Pipkin, Jr., and three other negroes whose names were not disclosed.

BETHANY, La., Jan. 11.—(AP)—Posses scoured the bottom lands of the Louisiana-Texas state line today searching for the fifth of a group of negroes who beat and shot to death Gordon Walton Harris, 37, when Harris sought to evict them from a farm eight miles south of here yesterday.

Harris was the son-in-law of T. C. Adams, prominent oil operator here.

The escaped tenant negro, believed to be John Pipkin, Jr., was thought to have been wounded by Harris, as blood was spattered on the tracks the fleeing negro left behind. The captured negros were in jail at Carthage, Texas.

Feeling against the negroes at Carthage was reported high.

Harris held the farm under lease and a week ago served notice on the negroes to vacate the property because of non-payment of obligations.

Harris, armed with a 38 calibre pistol for protection, went to the farmhouse yesterday to evict the negroes.

S. H. Osborne, a relative of Harris, said he was riding in a pasture a mile from the farm at the time of the altercation. A negro ran up to him, he said, and informed him a white man had been killed.

Sending the negro for help, Osborne proceeded to the farmhouse where he found Harris dead, beaten into insensibility with a blunt instrument and shot through the head. He said Harris apparently had been beaten with an axe, then shot.

Cotton Crop Brings 376 Million Dollars More Than in 1932

FIVE salient features of Cotton adjustment in 1936 are shown in the above illustration. In addition to covering four years and reducing the acreage in cotton in 1936 by 30 to 45 per cent of the base acreage, the contract provides for a single adjustment payment of not less than five cents a pound on the average yield of lint cotton on the acreage withheld from production. At a rate of five cents a pound, the average payment would amount to approximately $8.60 per acre, which approximates that paid in 1935 and is slightly more than was paid in 1934.

Just What Bonus Bill Will Do For Veterans of War

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—(AP)—The veterans' bonus measure does the following:

Offers 3,000,000 ex-soldiers immediate and full cash payment on adjusted service certificates, minus loans against them.

Provides that the veterans may hold certificates until 1945, drawing 3 per cent interest.

Specifies no means of meeting the cash outlay, leaving the method to the government. Advocates say immediate expenditure will be only $1,000,000,000, but this is disputed.

Cancels interest due on loans against certificates, but does not refund interest already paid, as had been suggested.

REGISTRATION NEW PASSENGER CARS FOR DECEMBER HIGHER

AUSTIN, Jan. 13.—(Spl.—New passenger car registrations in Texas during December were practically the same as in the preceding month, but sharply above those of the corresponding month the year before, according to report of the Bureau of Business Research of the University of Texas.

Aggregate sales for fifteen representative Texas counties were 5,710 cars, 184 per cent greater than the 2,015 cars sold in these counties during December, 1934. The lowest price group was the only one to show a drop from November sales. All other groups showed a substantial increase over the preceding month and a phenomenal increase over December the year before. The greatest increase was in the highest price group.

Sales in these counties for the entire year totaled 61,250, an increase of 26.1 per cent over 1934.

FUNERAL SERVICES SUNDAY AFTERNOON FOR MRS. SZENASI

Funeral services for Mrs. Vera Szenasi, aged 76 years, who died Friday night with a heart attack at her home east of Corsicana, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Church of the Immaculate Conception with interment in the Catholic cemetery. Monsignor V. Graffeo was in charge.

Mrs. Szenasi was a native of Hungary, but had resided in this vicinity for 20 years and prior to that time had lived in the Alma; Ellis county, community for many years.

Surviving are six sons, Mike and Joe Szenasi, both of Caddo, Okla., and Frank, Pete, Louis and John Szenasi, all of Corsicana; three daughters, Miss Agnes Szenasi, Corsicana; Mrs. Dan Budai, Dallas, and Mrs. Ellis Levay, Detroit, Mich.; 39 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

The funeral was directed by the Corley Funeral Home.

Makes Profit From Flock of 200 Hens

R. F. Vyers of Emhouse made a profit of $287.70 on 200 White Leghorn hens in 1935. Mr. Vyers sold $438.68 worth of eggs and had a feed bill of $150.96. Mr. Vyers keeps an accurate account of his sales and expenses in connection with his poultry and has comparison figures over a period of years. In 1934 he made a profit of $296.01 on the same size flock.

TOWNSEND PLAN ADVOCATE CANDIDATE AGAINST SHEPPARD

FORT WORTH, Jan. 13.—(AP)—Joseph H. Price of Fort Worth, advocate of the Townsend recovery plan, today announced his candidacy for the United States senate post now occupied by Senator Morris Sheppard of Texarkana.

Price, farmer and real estate investor, said he favored:

Immediate palyment of the soldiers' bonus; early enactment of the Townsend recovery plan; a plan whereby young workers shall contribute to the purchase and receive a retiring annuity; perpetuating the profit system with federal control of individual ownership of wealth, and a larger share of material profits going to labor; improving and perfecting orderly Democratic government to guarantee recovery, prosperity and security.

In connection with the Townsend plan, the candidate said he favored "an increased purchasing power by retiring four and one-half million men and women over 60 years old from active and gainful employment at $200 per month and replacing them with young men and women, while eight million men and women allotted $200 per month make jobs for seven and one-half million more."

This, he said, would "create buying power and prosperity, the results of forced circulation of money and regulated labor."

Price, a native of Louisiana, has lived in Texas 35 years. He said he "has never gotten over" several years of experience in actual farming in Texas and other states. He said he had devoted many years to the study of "fundamental economic government."

INFORMATION ABOUT DEBT ADJUSTMENT COMMITTEE GIVEN

UNIT HAS NO LEGAL STATUS BUT ATTEMPTS ADVICE ON TROUBLES

Questions about the Farm Debt Adjustment Division of Resettlement Administration being asked by farmers are of such similarity that L. I. Griffin, committeeman in this community, has asked that answers to a number of them be published. Other members of the committee include T. P. Shivers, Corsicana; L. R. Hall, Rice, and Will Trammel, Jr., Kerens. All of these men will be glad to give anyone complete information about this service.

The questions and their answers follow:

Q.—What legal status does the committee have?

A.—None. It cannot force either the debtor or the creditor to accept any suggestions.

Q.—Can it be effective without legal status?

A.—In many financial disagreements, as in life, most of the trouble is inability to see the other side of the question. The committee can show the creditor how he will profit by a new arrangement, and it can show the farmer how he should arrange his financial affairs to warrant further credit or an extension of time. This committee has studied finance and can also give farmers suggestions as to where to refinance to greater advantage.

Q.—Will it help any farmer who goes to it?

A.—The committee will advise any farmer who means business, and who will work with it honestly and carry through until the difficult task is finished.

Q.—How long will it take a farmer to get refinanced when he is in immediate danger of losing his property?

This depends on the situation. However, the committee is usually able to get the creditors to postpone litigation to allow the farmer an opportunity to secure financial assistance from some other source. Where the case warrants such drastic action, the committee may suggest that the farmer seek legal protection.

Q.—Will the committee try to refinance any farmer who goes to it?

A.—This committee does not refinance any one. It suggests ways farmers may secure refinancing from other agencies, including private firms, the Federal Land Bank, and the Resettlement Administration.

Q.—Will it give this information to farmers who do not need such complete assistance?

A.—Yes. Creditors who hold farm loans and are not receiving due consideration by the farmer-debtor are urged to bring their problems to the committee.

Q—What does this cost?

A.—Well, it costs the farmer and creditor nothing but their time and effort, and the committeemen receive only a small sum from the government to apply on expenses, no salary having been provided for.

Q.—Have those committees really accomplished anything?

A.—In Texas and Oklahoma alone, more than 14,000 foreclosures have been avoided, representing $40,000,000 worth of property.

Q.—When should the committeemen be contacted?

A.—Any time, at their meetings or before. The committee usually discusses the cases brought to it at the meetings and prefers that one of the members know the farmer's story before the meeting.

Q.—Does the committee have a regular meeting place and time?

A.—Yes, the place is Office 3, Sun-Light Building, Corsicana, and the time is the first Monday at 2 p. m. each month.

RICHLAND HEN HAS ASTRONOMICAL TREND IN HER EGG-LAYING

Judging by two peculiarly formed and marked eggs, laid by a two-year old Rhode Island red hen, owned by G. L. Burns, Richland farmer, and shown at The Sun office Saturday afternoon—the hen must have a yen for astronomy.

By a slight stretch of the imagination one can picture the round, smooth disc of the sun, behind which on all sides radiate wrinkles in the shell, which might be taken for sun-rays. The side on which the sun appears is flat. One of the eggs was laid before Christmas and the other early this week.

As a further proof of the hen's penchant for things celestial, Mr. Burns said in recent months she laid one egg bearing a crescent, resembling a phase of the moon, and another with the shell bearing well-shaped stars.

J. M. Dyer Leaves For Eastern Markets Select Spring Modes

J. M. Dyer, of J. M. Dyer Co., left Saturday for New York on an extended buying trip to select spring ready-to-wear in eastern markets.

Mr. Dyer will attend the early spring fashion showings of Paris and American designers. Models will be selected from the original designs and made up for the store here.

Particular attention will be given to spring trends in millinery, dresses, coats and suits. Buyers from Dyer's shoe department have already been in the markets, selecting the new fashions which will soon be ready for showing here.

An exceptional buying season is predicted, according to Mr. Dyer, based on estimates of a last holiday season last month. Reports of greater buying activity from all parts of the country. Advance reports from New York markets indicate the greatest influx of retail buyers in recent years.
